"We had something to show!"

'82

Amy,

I don't even know where to start. You really mean the world to me and it's hard to express these feelings in words. You are definitely the best thing that has ever happened to me. your love, support, and tenderness has really made me aware of just how great my life has been since we have met. We have had some pretty wonderful times but this is just the beginning. We had a few difficult times but we always managed to work them out. I guess that really tells us something about our relationship. I am so glad that I decided to move down here. I never expected to meet someone as wonderful as you, but I guess it was just destiny. I'm glad that I was there for you at the times when you were lonely. I'm a very lucky guy! Even though you are leaving, I don't feel as if time is running out. I know that it is just the beginning. After all Alaska ain't that far away and who knows, I'll probably be knocking on your back door pretty soon. I can't do without those Oriental Vegetables. My Senior year has been the best that it possibly could because I have finally found part of myself in you. I think about the future when we will be together and I know it's much more than a dream, it's reality. We will soon be graduates but that is really the first step into the rest of our lives. Words just cannot express how dear you are to me and I too hope that I have let you know this all along the

Dear Baby,

5/15/82

Well it has simply been my pleasure getting to know you this year. On top of being classy as hell, you're also very sweet, not to mention very (ooh, I wasn't supposed to mention it ☺) you know you should be an actor, cause what you pulled today was damned good (the crying bit). So you can act good. but it do everything good. Now that this year is winding down, I hope it has been everything you expected it to be, and even more I hope the days to come are twice as nice. Keep that specialness about you and that enjoyment that sets you above being ordinary. and don't forget to look for me on cable (EASTERN KENTUCKY)

Love ya always

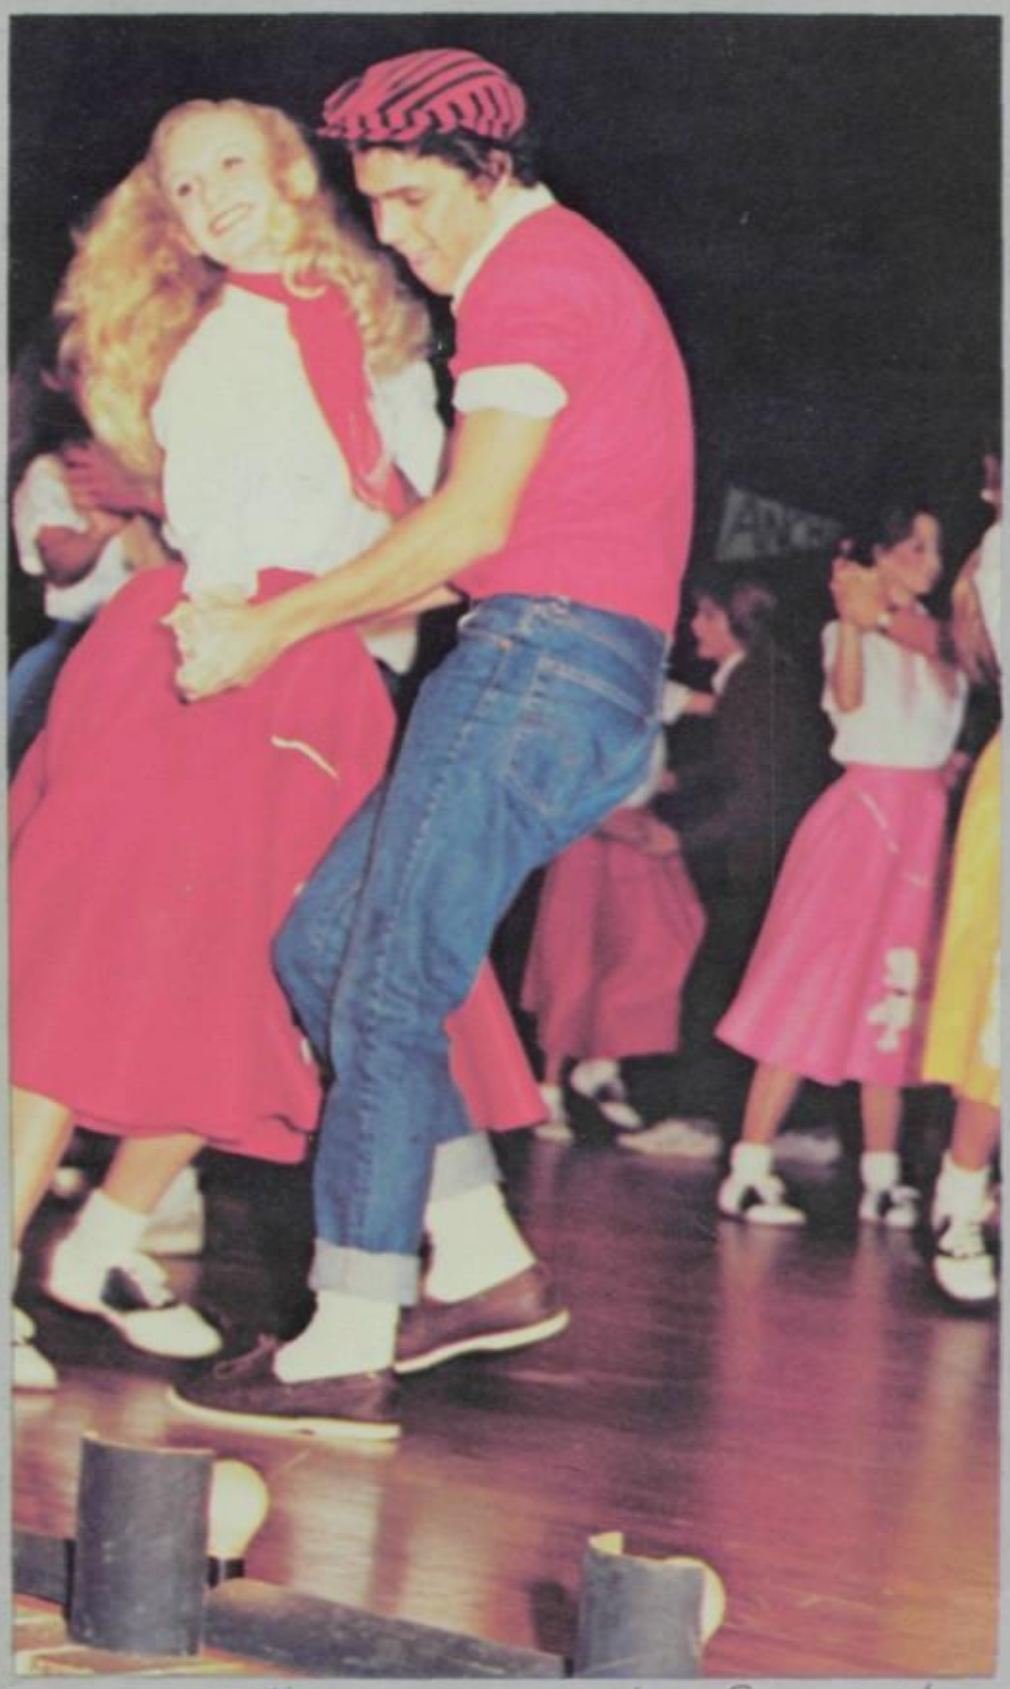
"We had something to show"



Amy,

You've brought so many smiles to my face over the past 2 years. Only the contestants and escorts could really (Miss Fletcher Pageant) know the fun and frustration behind the curtain. You and I with "Ga-uh!" Amy, we're gonna have so much fun on the cruise together. I'm glad we're sharing cabins. (I bet we're compatible). Those 7 hehe fun filled days with be paradise. Your so pretty and witty and I love you to death. I know I'll see you before the cruise at the parties. (Your parties were GREAT, too!) Take it easy, sweetie.

Lots of love,

Allyson

P.S. "WHAT 'CHA DOIN?"

Amy (Crystal, Amos, etc, etc, ...)

We're through! we're done! we did it! Twelve long years have come to the end of the road. we have gone through a lot together in these last three years, and even with the bad times that I guess every friendship has I think the good times have far outweighed the bad. And we have had some WILD times together. Can't forget "no dice", can we?! The near miss with the curtains got a little wild, too! Or what about the four-footed exit from the Homestead? I think I could go on for a while. They were some good times that I'll remember for a long time. After everything we have been through, I can honestly say that I'm going to miss you when you head up to the Great White North. You just make sure them you get back here for a vacation once in a while, and if you ever get a urge to visit Tallahassee, you know you have a place to stay. Keep these days at your home and maybe one day you stay out of trouble, It'll be awhile before either of us leave, So make the most of the Summer. Well dearest, I've taken up enough of your very good space already, so keep in touch and I'll be seeing You.

Much love and happiness,

HOMECOMING:

One of the most exciting events of the school year was Homecoming. Junior Girls organized and prepared for all the Homecoming festivities. These festivities began with Spirit Week, when students costumed according to the themes country, babies, punk rock, purple and white, and dress up day. A major portion of the students and faculty participated.

The next major event was the Senator Snarl, which was sponsored by Interact. All the clubs competed in the events such as the bat race, rope climb, pyramid, and best skit. The overall winners were the cheerleaders. The clubs also prepared weeks in advance for the Homecoming parade. The parade takes place the afternoon before the game, along third street from the Flag Pavilion to the school. The floats designed by the clubs are judged on originality and relevance to the theme of Homecoming. Best Overall and Most Original went to Omega's float. Interact received Most School Spirited and Astra received Best Design. Also participating in the parade were the Homecoming candidates, Miss Fletcher, the Band the principal and vice princpal.

Second runner-up: Donna Nichol and Rick Ard.

"ARABIAN NIGHTS"

Homecoming candidates had been chosen by each club. These couples were introduced to the student body during the pep rally and voted on by the students in the homeroom. At the game, during halftime, the King and Queen were announced. 1981-82 Homecoming King and Queen were Mark Adamec and Kim Brown. First runners-up were Betsy Wynn and Shannon Armstrong, and second runners-up were Donna Nichol and Rick Ard.

Following the football game came the Homecoming Dance. The Junior Girls decorated the gymnasium to fit the "Arabian Nights" theme. Streamers and props were present as the students danced to the music of a disc jockey from Rock 105. The couples had an enjoyable night and many had photographs taken with their dates. The theme presented a setting of mystery, intrique, and splendor.

LOCAL NEWS

The Beaches area experienced many events that have left lasting impressions. A very serious event was the loss of land due to brushfires along Atlantic and Beach Boulevard. The smoke that was produced did some damage to the homes around this area and made driving very hazardous.

Annual events, such as the Mayport and All That Jazz festival, the Beaches Five-Mile Run, and the Meninak Ocean Marathon, drew large crowds. Reportedly, more than 80,000 people attended the jazz festival.

Two new schools under construction were completed for the opening of the 1981-82 school year. Allen D. Nease High School in St. John's County opened on August 24th and Neptune Beach Elementary on November 9th.

Our athletic teams achieved state championship titles in wrestling, volleyball and softball. After the football season was over, Terrio Welch and Alvin Blount were recognized as two of the top 24 high school players in the area.

The controversy concerning high rises on the oceanfront was settled by the Jacksonville Beach City Council when permission was granted to allow the construction of tall buildings.

In October elections for mayor and other beach officials were held. Bob O'Neill won by a 2-1 margin over Guy Craig for the position of major for Jacksonville Beach. Other newly elected mayors were Ish Brant for Neptune Beach and Robert B. Persons Jr. for Atlantic Beach.

MISS FLETCHER

After months of organizing their talents, going to rehearsal after rehearsal, preparing props, and meeting with judges for an interview, Thursday, March 12, finally rolled around. All the excitement started when the 25 contestants with their escorts danced to "Rock Around the Clock." Wearing poodle skirts and bobby socks, they presented a "At the Hop" of the fifties, which was the 1981 theme. Each Miss Fletcher contestant had to perform her favorite talent, expressed in the form of original skits, choreographed dances, beautiful singing, and piano solos. There was a perfect closing to this first night of excitement, when the Miss Congeniality award, which is given to the girl who had been a good friend and helper throughout the pageant, was presented to Sandy Spring.

NATIONAL NEWS

1981 was a year of turmoil and triumph. It opened on a happy note on January 20, when 52 American hostages were released after 444 days of captivity in Tehran. Half way around the world on that same day Ronald Reagan was being inaugurated as America's 40th president. One month later, President Reagan proposed an economic policy to Congress—one that was designed to cut $41 billion in federal spending and permit a 30 percent across-the-board tax cut.

March 6 saw a beginning and an end. It was the last night that Americans would hear their well-loved anchorman say "And that's the way it is . . ." Walter Cronkite had resigned and Dan Rather took his place.

Then shock hit the world. On March 30, while walking out of Washington's Hilton Hotel, President Reagan was shot in the left lung by John Hinckley Jr. The President's press secretary James Brady was shot in the head and was hospitalized for six months.

One of the few bright spots of the year happened on April 12, when the space shuttle Columbia made its faultless first mission in space.

May came around with the death of Bobby Sands after a 66-day hunger strike in protest of the strife in Northern Ireland. It also produced the greatest shock of the year—a Turk named Mehmet Ali Agca shot Pope John Paul II. The Pope was hit in the stomach, but survived.

During June we saw the baseball strike, the election of Francois Mitterand in France, and the end of 23 months of terror for black Americans in Atlanta when Wayne B. Williams was arrested and charged with two of the killings.

July brought medfly infestation in California citrus groves. In addition, two skywalks in the Kansas City Hyatt Regency collapsed and 111 people were killed and 190 injured. This month also brought the most talked about and most waited for event of the year—the fairytale come true wedding of Prince Charles and Lady Diana on the 29th. It was a day filled with love and happiness.

Other "highlights" of the year included an airtraffic controllers strike in August and the appointment of Sandra Day O'Conner as the first woman to the Supreme Court in September.

Then came the third shock of the year. On October 6th, Moslem fanatics assassinated Egyptian President Anwar Sadar.

In Amsterdam, on November 21, 300,000 people gathered in the streets to protest the presence of nuclear weapons in Europe.

The year ended with the declaration of martial law in Poland and the end of the labor union Solidarity.

1981 will definitely be remembered as a year of violence and change with only a few bright moments to cherish.

NIGHTS ON BROADWAY . .

An exciting and memorable evening began as the students arrived at the Flag Pavilion. The night was May 22, 1981. The participants crossed over a bridge into a room filled with decorations and sparkle. "Nights on Broadway" was the theme and even the candles were properly attired in their bow ties.

The Junior Class had worked hard to prepare for the Junior-Senior prom and their dedication and pride showed through the comfortable atmosphere. The funds for the dance came from the Junior Class magazine sale and the Miss Fletcher Pageant. Weeks of hard work went into such special decorations as the veranda with the lighted sign stating the theme and even street lamps with street signs. The success of the event was largely due to the efforts of Mrs. Free, Jr. class sponsor, and the prom committee. Helpful sophomores served refreshments.

One of the highlights of the dance was the special music of Crystle Image. As their music filled the air, the dancing began. A special dance was saved for the Prom King and Queen. The second Prom title in Fletcher's history was given to Mike Cassela and Cindy Catalan who were chosen by Seniors voting in homerooms.

It was a wonderful evening that the participants will never forget. The excitement and glamour gave the effect of a true Night on Broadway.

INVASION, OR JUST

Painted faces, dyed hair, and outrageous outfits were all part of Weirdo Wolfson Day! This idea started in 1969 and has been annually celebrated ever since. When we play Wolfson in football we are prepared for a spirited game.

Outfits ranged from the ever popular punk rocker, to the Texas cowboy, and little babies in pajamas. Several girls were dressed as crayons! Adding those finishing touches to make the look complete led many to drastic measures such as face and body painting all the way to dyed hair in every conceivable shade and color!

Participation isn't limited to students; teachers enjoyed getting in on the fun also. There were many teachers dressed as football players, hobos, and even an outer space creature.

During this eventful day a special pep rally was held complete with costume judging, skits, and spirited cheers. The final winners each won free football tickets to that night's game. They were Nina Leibinger, Charles Bach, Donald Huff, Matt Smith, Bobby Pierce, Patience Whitehead, Maria Ramaras, Kelly Greene, Wayne Branton, and Lilly Lucas.

The Anchor that Won't Sink

Anchor had a very rewarding year. Their service projects were many including decorating the Hope Haven Children's Hospital, serving teachers breakfast on planning days, bringing cookies to teachers every Wednesday, and donating clothes to the needy.

Anchor busied itself at Christmas time with writing Santa letters to little children, selling Christmas messages, and caroling at the Hospitality Care Center.

When asked how she felt about the club, President Christy Kruger stated, "The best thing about Anchor is that it is a club dedicated to service and because of that, every member can make a real contribution and get as much out of the club as she puts into it."

Ms. Cavallaro and Mrs. Kizer play a big part in making the club successful because of their dedication to the members and their willingness to always help.

Christy also added, "When it comes down to it, the members make it all worthwhile because whatever we do, we have a great time doing it!"

Always Smile; The Result's Amazing

Candy sales, rap-ins, and cookies for the teachers are just a few of the activities in which Astra participated.

The club started out with a candy sale and the annual homecoming dinner for the football players. Near Christmas, the club took candy and presents to the children at the Jordan Chapel Nursery and held an alumni tea. Other activities of the service club included the Mr. Leggs contest (the proceeds of which went to charity), the Special Olympics, and the Astra-Anchor basketball game. The annual April Astra Apple Day wrapped up the springtime activities of a very successful year.

Vice-President Diane Ousley remarked, "Serving on the Astra board has been a wonderful experience. The girls have been terrific, and our sponsor, Mrs. Stewart, has been a wonderful influence and friend to us all."

The Beat Goes On

The Marching Band played a major role in adding spirit and enthusiasm to the crowds at various school activities. Their excellent half-time shows proved to be an entertaining break for football fans. As soon as the band began to play, the crowds became wrapped up in their lively tunes.

Discipline was a must for all Marching Senators. They began practices early in the summer to teach routines to new members. As school started, they perfected their skills further at strict practices three times a week. Their many hours of strenuous and rigorous training certainly paid off. Their half-time shows were executed with poise and professionalism. Band member Tony Hernandez commented, "Band is a great organization in which people who have the same goal can come and work together."

The Marching Band attended many competitions. At the Valdosta contest, the band received a superior rating. In the Forrest competition, they received a third rating and made it into the finals. Then, in the District FBA contest, they surpassed everyone and recieved straight superiors.

Symphonic Band followed Marching Band. As the football season left, many band members moved indoors to perform and compete. They attended the District and State competitions, and the Six Flags contest. Many outstanding musicians took part in the Solo and Ensemble contest. The band also played for the Christmas and the end of the year shows. Symphonic Band member Jaleen Smith commented, "Mr. Ponder works us until everything is just perfect."

Meeting of the Minds!

In Brain Brawl, the nature of competition is such that one is always being challenged and is driven past intellectual potential again and again. Members expect this and have fun doing it. Tryouts, which were essentially games, were held at the end of last year and eight members were selected.

The team, sponsored by Mrs. Furnans and Mr. M. Reynolds, met three times a week over the summer and one to three times a week during the year. These meetings consisted of practices, miscellaneous testing, and drills. With the special help of Mr. Allen and Mrs. Tester, they were also able to set up a program of study sessions.

The team's objective is academic competition in conjunction with a growing emphasis on academic achievements at Fletcher and in Duval County. Marion Stouffer stated "It is a chance to pull ideas together and present them."

CHECKMATE!!

Skill, strategic know-how, and a competitive nature are three basic necessities for playing chess. In addition, one needs an alert mind and plenty of patience and perserverance. The members of the Fletcher Sr. High chess club have these necessities and talents.

The club, consisting of nine members and sponsored by Mr. Wood and Mrs. Potter, meets once a week to practice for tournaments with other schools. They have even had a city-wide tournament lasting up to twelve hours! Mike Milhovszky said, "The chess club gives me a chance to pit my wits against other members of the student body and there's much excitement in tournaments with other schools."

The chess club raised money by selling candy. They plan to save the money in order to buy chess timers.

Adding Spirit and Spice

Being a cheerleader means hardwork and dedication to the school. The cheerleaders practiced during the summer to prepare for the upcoming football season. They created stunts, cheers, and chants. The girls were selected by a group of judges on the basis of their ability to do special jumps and cheers. It was a very hard decision to make, since all of the girls tried their best to compete against each other. Twelve cheerleaders and two alternates were selected. Pep rallies were held in the gym, when the squad did cheers to support the team.

On the night before Homecoming, the cheerleaders participated in the Senator Snarl. They won first place in the pyramid building event and first place in the overall competition. The next evening, after the Homecoming candidates were presented, Donna Nicol and Rick Ard were named second runners-up. For the Miss Fletcher Pageant, Donna Steen was chosen to represent the cheerleaders.

To Cheer the Team to Victory

After the football season was over, additional cheerleaders were chosen to support the athletes in wrestling, basketball, and soccer. Many girls were selected and divided into squads. They were judged the same way as the football cheerleaders. When asked what was hard about being a cheerleader, Karen McNeill commented, "The hardest part of being a cheerleader is not the physical activity but dedicating yourself and donating your time. You have to learn to compromise and consider the feelings of others. Most importantly, the squad must work together."

We Believe in Music

The Serenaders journeyed into a new era in the world of music. They were led by Miss Nandra Talton who has taught the chorus for three years. The Serenaders are a group who enjoy music and entertaining people. Their music is sung from the heart.

Miss Talton and her students work hard all year to strive for perfection in their art. The Serenaders enjoyed a very busy and rewarding year. They sang for the PTSA Open House, the PTSA Barbeque, and at the county fair. They also held concerts at Fletcher Jr. High, Pablo Towers, and during fall and the Christmas season. As a special event, the Rock Ensemble provided entertainment for the men of the HMS Hermes, a British ship that visited the Mayport Naval Station.

The key to success for the Serenaders was Miss Talton's experience and optimistic attitude. She was more than a director to her students; she was a friend. As Tony Romero remarked, "Music has always been and always will be the main driving force in my life. Thanks to Miss Talton's dedication and hard work, my experience in music has grown as well as been strengthened. She is an exceptional director who is unsurpassed by anyone as a mucisian and a friend."

One for all and all for One!!

The Chorus' perseverance paid off with superior ratings at the District State competitions in the spring. Other honors bestowed on the Serenaders were personal involvement with All-State chorus, Honor chorus, and Solo and Ensemble Contest.

Two new groups have been added to the Serenader music program; the Madrigal Ensemble and the Community Chorus. These groups met on Monday and Wednesday nights, enhanced the choral curriculum, and provided a greater variety of musical expression and experience.

As Plato once said,"Music touches the inward places of the soul." This is the philosophy expressed by the Serenaders. They were truly an asset to the school as well as to the Beaches community. Their love for music is reflected in their professional attitude.

Back in Full Strength

After an inactive year in the school, the New Americans Club returned with new expectations and vigorous ideas. The club was make up of students who were interested in the school and community. This concern for the community showed through their special projects, such as visiting the elderly at the Hospitality Care Nursing Home.

As a major contribution to the school, the club assembled and published the Senator Memory Book. They gathered information from the seniors through their homerooms and then organized all the information for publication. The book was then sold to the students and whatever profit was earned was to be used for next year's book.

The club also participated in all school-sponsored activities, such as Homecoming. Their Homecoming candidates were Terrio Welch and Joy Oldham. Under the leadership of Rosa Williams, president, and Mr. Austin, club sponsor, the club was prosperous and respected.

DCT: Working Together

DCT, the Diversified Cooperative Training Club of Fletcher, is an organization affiliated with local businesses. Cooperative is the cooperation between the school and the local businesses. Diversified means students working different kinds of jobs.

Each student has three to four classes in the morning, including one class period for DCT, and then works in the afternoon. In order to make up for time lost at school, DCT takes part in as many school activities as possible. This involvement in school activities sets DCT apart from DECA and FBLA and allows members to develop human relations and leadership skills. Leadership, defined by Mr. Osborn, is "the ability to get people to do what they don't have to do."

The purpose of DCT is to give the student "a start in a career." This is the club's main priority. Wendy Greek, who is a member of DCT, commented, "DCT is a great experience; it allows me to gain on-the-job training at a job that I plan to pursue as a career. Work is the most beneficial type of training available."

On the Job

DECA is manily concerned with giving instruction in marketing, merchandising and management and is designed to develop future leaders for these areas.

Since the dub had grown so large, a division was made at the beginning of the year, DECA Gold and DECA Blue. DECA Gold welcomed their new advisor, Mr. Robert Knight.

DECA held its ninth annual cheese sale during October 1981. This was also the second year that the chapter has had meetings every month to discuss future events.

Beth Harmon represented the DECA chapters at the District Rally at Jacksonville University, for the office of Parliamentarian.

Because competition was held in Jacksonville, (March 18-25) Fletcher's DECA was appointed by the Host Association to take care of the publicity for this event. The club's responsibilities were to provide all necessary supplies to the Conference head quarters and to see to all floral arrangements for the head tables.

DECA competitive events were as follows: Apparel and accessories, food marketing, restaurant marketing, service station retailing, finance and credit, and general merchandising.

DECA Gold and DECA Blue were very proud when both their Homecoming candidates were selected King and Queen. Congratulations went to Kim Brown and Marc Adamec.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION CLUBS OF AMERICA

It's a Fact We're Back!

One of the clubs to have joined others in dedication to service was Epsilon, whose affiliation with the school came in September of 1981. Epsilon was originally a service club called Y-teens. Fourteen years ago they ceased to exist as a school-affiliated club and were on their own till the opening of school. While independent, they created their own service projects and raised their own money. The main reason for joining with the school again was to regain the acknowledgement of doing good services and to participate in school functions such as Senator Snarl and Miss Fletcher.

In the community Epsilon worked with the Baptist Children's Home and Hospitality Care Center by visiting them, helping out, and letting them know someone cares. They tried to make at least one visit to one a month.

Epsilon's major accomplishments were mainly to get everything in order and to become established in the school. This took much paper work, whereas before the club was used to doing everything without official approval. Epsilon feels that things would not have run as smoothly as they did without Miss White, who has been an excellent sponsor to the club. Barbara Thomas remarked, "I feel that for a club to be successful, you have to have a nice and understanding sponsor."

Epsilon provided guides for Open House, participated in the Senator Snarl and Homecoming, and put someone up for Miss Fletcher. As for community projcts, Epsilon performed a "Short People" dance at Hospitality Care, collected canned foods and planned a Christmas party for the children's home.

Preparing for Business Career

Future Business Leaders of America, FBLA, is a club which gives the students a helping hand into the business world. This club presents a definite set of goals, including the creation of more interest and understanding in the decision of a business career and the improving of effective leadership. The determination of the students shows that they stand by their motto "We mean Business!"

The club members all participated in district rallies and competitions using their business skills, such as accounting and steno. The club also participated in school activities such as a candy sale, and Homecoming. The Homecoming representatives for the club were Christy Bailey and David Smith. President Tina Gregg remarked that "This year was a big challenge and I liked it. I learned to get things done and to be organized and efficient."

Someone's in the Kitchen

FHA/Hero Foods helps its members to go "toward new horizons." This is the club's motto which summarizes the objectives of the club. The students are learning to live better today in order that their lives may be better tomorrow. Food management skills are taught so the participants can gain a basic knowledge about foods and occupations in food service.

Mrs. Morgan is the club sponsor. She has certain criteria which must be met each year by her students. They learn to "improve nutrition, to conserve resources, and to strengthen human relations." Thus, they learn how to prepare foods, the proper functioning of a kitchen, and also to relate with the people thay may serve or work for.

Each separate class has its own set of officers who take charge twice a month in conducting meetings. These officers have responsibilities, and they each handle them very well.

Caring and Sharing

The Childcare program is offered to all students who are interested in pursuing a career in working with children. The course is offered for three years, but a different class is to be taken each year: the first year the students take a fundamental course which teaches them how to take care of all different kinds of people such as the handicapped, older people in homes, as well as children. During this course, the students set up labs, work with infants, rompers, and toddlers from the student's neighborhood and with their own families. The second course is a two-hour block when the students set up the classroom and teach the "Little Senators." The third course is a CO-OP course when the students go to three classes and then go to work with little children at a nursery school or another school such as San Pablo.

Dancin' to the Beat

Fletcherettes is more than just a bunch of pom-pom girls. They are a precision drill team striving for perfection in every performance. Eleven girls were selected by a panel of judges with Amy Harms and Cathy Matthews serving as captains. They dance at every home football game just before kickoff time to get the crowd fired up and at pep rallies to get everyone excited about the game.

The girls put in many long, hard hours this summer learning dance routines under the instruction of Janet Sydnor of the Progressive and Creative Dance Group. Amy Harms commented about being a Fletcherette. "I really didn't know what I was getting into when I was a junior, but I really have enjoyed being a Fletcherette for the past two years. It's work but the girls make it alot more fun." Janet helped each girl individually as well as the team together to prepare for their first performances. She was a big help and a good friend to everyone. Her efforts are greatly appreciated by each and every girl.

It's Fun to Know Why

Florida Junior Academy of Science is made up of forty-nine members, the second largest membership in the state. Members were selected on the basis of grade point average. Every student had to have been recommended by three faculty members.

The club met every second and fourth Friday of the month. They raised funds by having a candy sale. These funds helped sponsor the science fair and the club's trip to Cape Kennedy. Robin Rutledge and Jerry Vanderwier represented FJAS as homecoming candidates and Tammy Land was chosen by fellow club members to participate in the Miss Fletcher contest.

Mr. Mike Reynolds, Mr. Littlejohn, and Mr. Wood are the club's sponsors. Mr. Reynolds said, "For years, Fletcher has had an excellent science department and the icing on the cake is the fulfillment of the students' interest as is shown in the development of the Florida Junior Academy of Science".

Here's How It Works

"Students worked much harder than I expected to contribute to the most successful science fair in the state," commented Mr. Mike Reynolds about the Second Annual Science and Engineering Fair, which was the largest in Fletcher's history. 191 students participated. A few of the subjects included embryonic deformation, sunspot observation, chicken hormone replacement, and chemical regeneration in plants. The science fair took place on February first while the awards ceremony was held in the auditorium on February second.

Twenty-three judges including professionals in Astronomy, Botany, Biology, Chemistry, Computer Sciences, Engineering, Environmental Sciences, Health Sciences, Psychology, Physics, and Zoology, evaluated the exhibits to come up with the list of winners. In the Biological Sciences category, Lisa Boutry was the overall winner with her project, "The Effects of Powdered Seashells and Gibberellic Acid on the Growth and Production of Basidiomycetes and Cypress Trees". In the Physical Sciences category, Ted Cox was the overall winner with his project "Reduction of Airfoil Viscosity, Laminar Flow, and Mass Usufruct of High Velocity Airflow." The winners in each particular category of the science fair were chosen to participate in the 1982 Regional Science and Engineering Fair at Regency Square.

The Foreign Force

Bonjour! The French Club offers opportunities to learn all about French culture. The members of the club participated in the Foreign Language Field Day by competing in such events as the spelling bee and the food contest. They also had fund-raising activities to raise money for their special banquet at the end of the year.

Mr. Leibinger is the sponsor of both the French Club and the German Club. (He is also the Latin Club sponsor.) The students have a great respect for him as a teacher and as a friend. He has added a lot of insight and experience to the foreign language department. The clubs have been organized into exciting and beneficial learning experiences.

The German Club acquaints the members with the language, traditions, and customs of the German people. The students worked hard to improve their growing club. The members sold their traditional "gummi bears" and other German candies to raise funds. Cheryl Parker, president, put a lot of time and effort into organizing new activities for the club members. The club was also well represented in the Foreign Language Field Day. The club should be admired for its dedication and improvement.

Leaders of the Pack

The Inter-Club Council is responsible for coordinating club activities. Each meeting is conducted by Carrie Crossley, ICC president, who acts as liaison between the various organizations and the administration. Since ICC is a club within the Student Council, most of the faculty responsibility is carried by Mrs. Riggsbee, Student Council sponsor. Both Mrs. Riggsbee and Carrie work closely with the administration to relay new ideas to club presidents.

One project that is in process is the idea to put benches at the bus entrance for the tech. students. Another project is to get clubs to donate money to the library fund so that we may install a detector to cut down on the number of books stolen each year. Carrie Crossley expressed her thoughts concerning the council by saying, "Being president of Inter-Club Council allows me to bring clubs closer together with regards to each other as well as the administration. With thirty-five clubs, it isn't always easy!"

Books, Knowledge, Wisdom

The members of the library council play a very important part in organizing the library. Without the help of these assistants, the librarians would have a heavy load to carry.

The library council members shelve books, run and repair the equipment, check out books, and basically, just keep the library organized. The sponsors, Mrs. Potter and Mrs. Stearns, were very glad to have the help of these students, because they were able to efficiently run the library.

A new idea that the National Honor Society originated is to install a ten thousand dollar security system. This system will help eliminate the number of stolen books per year. All clubs are participating by donating money to this fund.

Inter-Action

Interact began their year by taking in new members. Initiates must have a 2.5 grade point average and have the ability to work hard. Interact topped in November by accepting 15 new members.

Interact's responsibilities included cleaning up the atrium, sponsoring the Senator Snarl, raising the flag in the morning, and creating a calendar. In addition, they participated in community oriented service projects.

Joe Berg began with a humanities seminar on October 8, 1981. Now called the Duval County Science and Humanities Seminars, Joe Berg is held every Thursday at Jacksonville University. The program was originally begun by a philanthropist named Joe Berg, who set aside money for intelligent high school students to learn more about science and humanities than they would in school.

Before participating in the program, selected juniors and seniors must pass either a science or humanities examination. Some students attend both the science and humanities seminars. Guest speakers discuss a variety of topics ranging from drama to coalfired plants.

Joe Berg is an enriching experience for all. In addition to meeting new people, students are exposed to subjects that they would never have a chance to learn about otherwise.

Government in Action

Six boys and three girls were selected by the American Legion to participate in Boys' State and Girls' State last summer. This program was designed to teach high school students about American government and its procedures. Each participant was first recommended by teachers and then chosen by American Legion members on the basis of patriotism, leadership, and interest in community and school activities.

These students, and others from all over Florida, spent a week at Florida State University in Tallahassee. The week's activities included lectures and learning programs, which taught the fundamentals of government, and the formation of a new state government. Elections of city, county, and state officials involved the selection of political parties, speech writing, and campaigning. David Bowers was elected to the House of Representatives.

"It was an experience I'll never forget," stated Richard Kovatch. Not only was it a great honor to participate in the Boys' and Girls' State programs, but it was a unique learning experience for all. As the week came to an end, new friends parted, but lifetime friendships had been formed.

"Midnight at the Oasis"

Junior Girls is a service organization that handles Homecoming. This includes the crowning of the queen and king, the organization of the floats, and of course that mystical, unforgetable Homecoming dance. The club is open to any junior girl willing to put forth her time and energy to make Homecoming an event to remember.

Planning Homecoming was an important responsibility, and the Junior Girls carried it off impressively. To insure spectacular results, they began early in the summer. To raise money, the Junior Girls sold doughnuts. The Homecoming theme was "Abrabian Nights." For the dance, the gym was decorated like the inside of a huge Arabian tent. The mascot, Jonathan Carter, commented, "Though participation was low, and we were pressed for time, the morale was high, and we got it done."

A benefit of being a Junior Girl was that, if by chance you did not get asked to the dance, you could always go to "just check on the decorations." The Junior Girls did a remarkable job with Homecoming and should be commended for their devoted and outstanding work. Arlita Silao's comment certainly sums it up, "The work was hard and sometimes hectic, but I'll always remember the fun times I had."

Forever Faithful

Omega stood by its tradition of being dedicated, responsible, and "spastic." Omega's year began by taking in new members. Two teas, a car wash, and a workday were held so that initiates and members could get acquainted. In order to become members, the initiates had to participate in 75% of all initiate functions, maintain a 2.5 grade point average, and be prepared to give extra time to the school and community. The club took in six sophomores, four juniors, and two seniors. These new members were tapped-in just in time to help with open house and the opening of the new Neptune Beach Elementary School. The club also visited the Hospitality Care Center during Christmas to entertain and visit the elderly. Among its other activities are the selling of Halloween and Easter messages, preparing cookies every Friday for the faculty, and sponsoring Almost Anything Goes. Almost Anything Goes developed in order to make money to be donated to Cystic Fibrosis. All the clubs participate in this event to compete with one another in such categories as the obstacle course. A plaque is awarded to the club with the most points at the end of the evening.

During Homecoming Heidi Kaunath and Dave Zona were chosen to represent Omega as Homecoming candidates. Betsy Wynn, Omega's president, represented Interact and was awarded first runner-up in the contest. Omega created the Best Over All float for the second year in a row and also received the Most Original award in the parade. The honor was well deserved for the girls worked weeks in advance to prepare the float.

Another special assignment for Omega is to beautify the fountain area and to make it a senior patio. The club hopes to put in a walk way that will lead to the fountain. They also have planted two trees. All the other clubs have also been assigned a special area on the school grounds to keep in order. With such special activities, Omega was kept busy and happy.

La Creme de la Creme

The National Honor Society is an organization for outstanding high school juniors and seniors. Each year students who have at least a 3.5 G.P.A. and who demonstrate strong leadership, service, and character accomplishments are chosen for membership in NHS. Once inducted, the only remaining requirement is to maintain the 3.5 G.P.A.

For fund-raisers, the Fletcher Sr. High chapter of the NHS sold candy and Homecoming corsages, ran the consession stand during the "Miss Fletcher" pageant, and provided tutoring services. The money raised went towards scholarship funds and projects. Some of the projects included raising money to donate to the Muscular Distrophy Association and the library fund (for a security system). Money also went to sponsoring Kim Wright in the "Miss Fletcher" pageant and Ben McMillan and President Marion Stouffer as candidates for Homecoming King and Queen.

Keeping up with the Times

The Northeaster, a first class newspaper, was informing and entertaining to students and teachers alike. The staff, sponsored by Ms. Kirkland, spent fifth period diligently working.

Editor Jimmy and Art and Managing Editor Charles Back attended a workshop in Gainesville last summer. It proved to be helpful and worthwhile. They returned with a District 2 win over all other schools present.

The first issue of the Northeaster came out in the beginning of October. Besides being a great achievement, it was free for all students to enjoy. The staff published six newspapers that contained special features, students' opinions, comics, sportsnews and much more.

As well as having fun, staff members gained a learning experience that will aid in their future education. Charles Back stated "I find the writing I do for the Northeaster a good outlet for inspirational energy, and it gives me a sense of accomplishment."

A Brand New Start

Participation in community and school projects has been Key Club's main objective for their 81-82 school year. Projects included helping with the opening of the Neptune Beach Elementary School, donating a glass display bulletin board in front of the library, helping Open House, ringing donation bells for the Salvation Army. Two major projects were a Halloween party for the Children's Orphanage and a Christmas party in St. Augustine for the School for the Deaf and Blind. President Mark Hagist commented, "It was a real rewarding experience for all of us; it made each member realize how fortunate we are."

Officers for the '81-'82 year were Mark Hagist, president, Rich Pope, vice-president, Ferdinand Mondaraz, secretary, Arnel Cortez, treasurer, and Dan Bower, chaplain. Advisors to the board were Dan McBroom, senior advisor, Bill Gribben, junior advisor, and Jeff Fuller, sophomore advisor.

A new addition to Key Club was the sweeties. Barbara Thomas and Anne Hirst were selected for their interest andd participation in activities. Christi Kruger, Sweetheart, was chosen for her dedication and representation of Key Club.

Mr. Brady, a long time sponsor of Key Club left Jan. 19 to another job and location. All members agreed that without Mr. Brady's assistance the club would not have got back on its feet and in good standing with the school.

Homecoming candidates were Rich Pope and Sweetheart Christy Kruger. Melissa Mendoza was selected and participated in the Miss Fletcher Pageant.

Real Stringers

The orchestra, directed by Mr. Ponder, held their first concert at Christmas. Plans were made to include Mayport Junior High Orchestra and Chorus to add to their already terrific sound.

Charles Grage, Evan McAllister, and Dannielle Kroger were not only active in the school orchestra, but also participated in the Jacksonville Youth Symphony. It was a real honor to be selected.

Charles Grage, an orchestra member, stated his views on the orchestra, "Orchestra isn't just a group of musicians; we're all individuals, We all like different types of music, but we like what we do. We like what we play, we unify and become a group."

Latina

Although Latin club was new at school, it became quickly organized and accepted by students. They elected officers without haste and Homecoming candidates Jackie Holland and Noli Tablada. Karen Gionet was elected as the club's Miss Fletcher contestant, which again showed the enthusiasm to get a good club started.

Sponsor Mr. Leibinger also teaches Latin I. This new course was considerably popular with students, which created their interest in the formation of a club. Marina Balgos expressed her enthusiasm for the club when stating, "The success of the Latin club depended on a group of reliable people; fortunately we had those kinds of people. Therefore the club should be able to continue on the right track."

A Helping Hand

Our PTSA is a local unit of the National PTA. Some of their activities and projects were helping with registration, giving eye screening tests, sponsoring the Homecoming barbeque, buying the furnitrue for the conference room, and buying the boys' basketball uniforms. In addition, PTSA holds a paper drive on the first Thursday of every month.

The objects of the PTSA are 1. To promote the welfare of youth in home, school, community, and place of worship. 2. To raise the standards of home life. 3. To secure for all youth adequate laws for their care and protection. 4. To bring into closer relation the home and the school. 5. To develop between educators and the general public such efforts that will secure for all youth the highest advantage in physical, mental, social, and spiritual education.

Spanish Club: ¡ Quiereme!

Spanish Club is made up of 40 hard working members who have hosted many socials, sponsored the Fletcher Mug Sale, and participated in the Foreign Language Field Day in November. Funds were raised by sponsoring a candy sale and a car wash.

The people chosen by their fellow club members to be candidates for homecoming were Geri Prince and Griff James. Jacque Forrest was the girl picked to participate in the Miss Fletcher contest.

Mrs. Cross is the club's sponsor and the officers who wear the red and yellow colors of the club are John Gornto, president; Jennifer Hunt, vice president; Anita Breedlove, secretary; Tony Hernandez, treasurer; Jerry Doherty, parliamentarian; Geri Prince, chaplain; and Chris Rison, social chairman.

We did it all for you!!

The Senator staff was dedicated to preserving the special moments as well as reflecting the views of the student body. Whether gathering information, designing layouts, taking pictures, or writing copy, the staff members put in numerous hours of hard work. We have attempted to make each and every page an accurate recording of the unique school year.

Work began over the summer for the Editor Joy Routzahn, who planned the cover, the color sections, layout designs, and the theme of the book. The year started with the staff consisting of thirteen general members, three photographers, and two advertising editors. The members were taught the basics of layout design and copy preparation and then were given their assignments. As the deadlines came and went, the staff shared a special feeling of accomplishment and unity. The anticipation of the final outcome was intense.

"As editor, I would like to give my deepest appreciation to the staff members and to our sponsors, Mrs. Jolly and Mrs. Amber. No one can comprehend the time and dedication that goes into creating a yearbook. Each one of the staff members has played a vital role in the production of this yearbook. My thanks are sincere to the staff for we have captured the feelings and events of the 81-82 school year. I hope that the student body will share in our pride of this accomplishment," commented the editor.

Giving Their Support

What do you have when a group of people, with a lot of enthusiasm, get together? A club that gets everyone into the purple spirit.

The members of the Spirit Club do exactly that: increase the enthusiasm of the student body. They work once a week to make banners and spirit rags for members of the athletic teams. Recently, they have sold candy, spirit buttons, and purple and gold pom-poms to raise money for a Christmas party and a trip planned for the end of the year. The club, with the help of Sponsor Mrs. Jones, has worked together to show support for the school's teams. If you look for a spirit club jersey of white and gold, the members may be seen at football, soccer and other athletic activities. When asked why she has enjoyed being in the club, Valarie Stevens commented, "I think it's a great club to be in because you meet a lot of people."

Informative Persons

The Student Council acts as a voice on behalf of the student body. The main idea of a student council is to solve problems that students come in contact with.

The Student Council has had many successful projects which include the blood drive, Christmas food and toys for the needy, Christmas door decorating contest, Christmas assembly, yearly lock rentals, the Homecoming parade, traditional candy sales, and the overall student body elections.

The officers for student council were Patti Wasloski, president; Carrie Crossley, vice president; Kathy Jensen, treasurer; Sandy Spring, secretary. These officers, with the help of the official advisory board members, promoted projects through the various homerooms.

STUDENT COUNCIL/97

Shining Bright with Talent!!

Thespians, the drama club, opened the year with the production of a Talent-Variety Show. The show was a major success because of the united effort between the performers and the club members. All the participants had practiced for many long lours and were prepared for their moment on stage in front of the judges. The over-all winner was a rock group called "Seizure." There was also a variety of other acts such as singing, dancing, and comedy skits.

The second production of the year was for the school Christmas assembly. The club presented a short Christmas play both written and performed by them. After completing the Christmas play, the club began to prepare for the District Drama Contest which was held in January. In the spring, Thespians presented the play, "Arsenic and Old Lace." The cast, the stage crew, and the producation managers worked hard after school and on weekends in order to give the best performance possible.

The club gave the members a chance to "be a star" and to achieve excellence in an art they enjoy. This year they had a new sponsor, Mrs. Hill, who gave the club new ideas in technique and style. They worked together and presented talent and skill that could not be matched. They deserve a round of applause!!

Theta: Unique and Individual!!

Theta easily earned the reputation of being a truly spirited club. From pep rallies to the Senator Snarl, Theta's spirit rang loud and clear. With Berta Kane as president, who was chosen "most individual" senior, and Amy Wilson as vice-president, who was chosen "wittiest" senior, anything and everything was possible. When asked what they thought about the club and their offices, Berta and Amy said they felt that Theta was like a family and they enjoyed being able to help the school

Numerous promotion-oriented activities were organized in and around the community. Helping to promote the armed forces was one of the major projects. The club also held lollipop sales and car washes in an attempt to raise money for special activities and socials.

Theta is a relatively new club, and each year the number of its members grows considerably. Many spirited and dedicated girls are anxious to join the club with the motto, "Love, Loyalty, and Purity."

Mascot John Suddarth was indeed an asset to Theta. Helping, joining, and participating in all activities was part of the mascot's duties. When asked how he felt about Theta and its members, he replied, "The girls in Theta are all wonderful, and each of them has fun in whatever she does. I feel honored to have represented them this year!"

Mr. Milton Cooper entered the baseball season as a second year coach for our team. His enthusiasm was shown by his comment "I'm looking for a really good year with the team." With five returning, three year starters his hope for success was justified. His optimism was shared with the players, and they were also looking forward to a successful season. The first game was held on February 16 against tough competitor Bishop Kenny. High hopes were set for the District tournament on April 23 and 24, which officially ended the 1982 season.

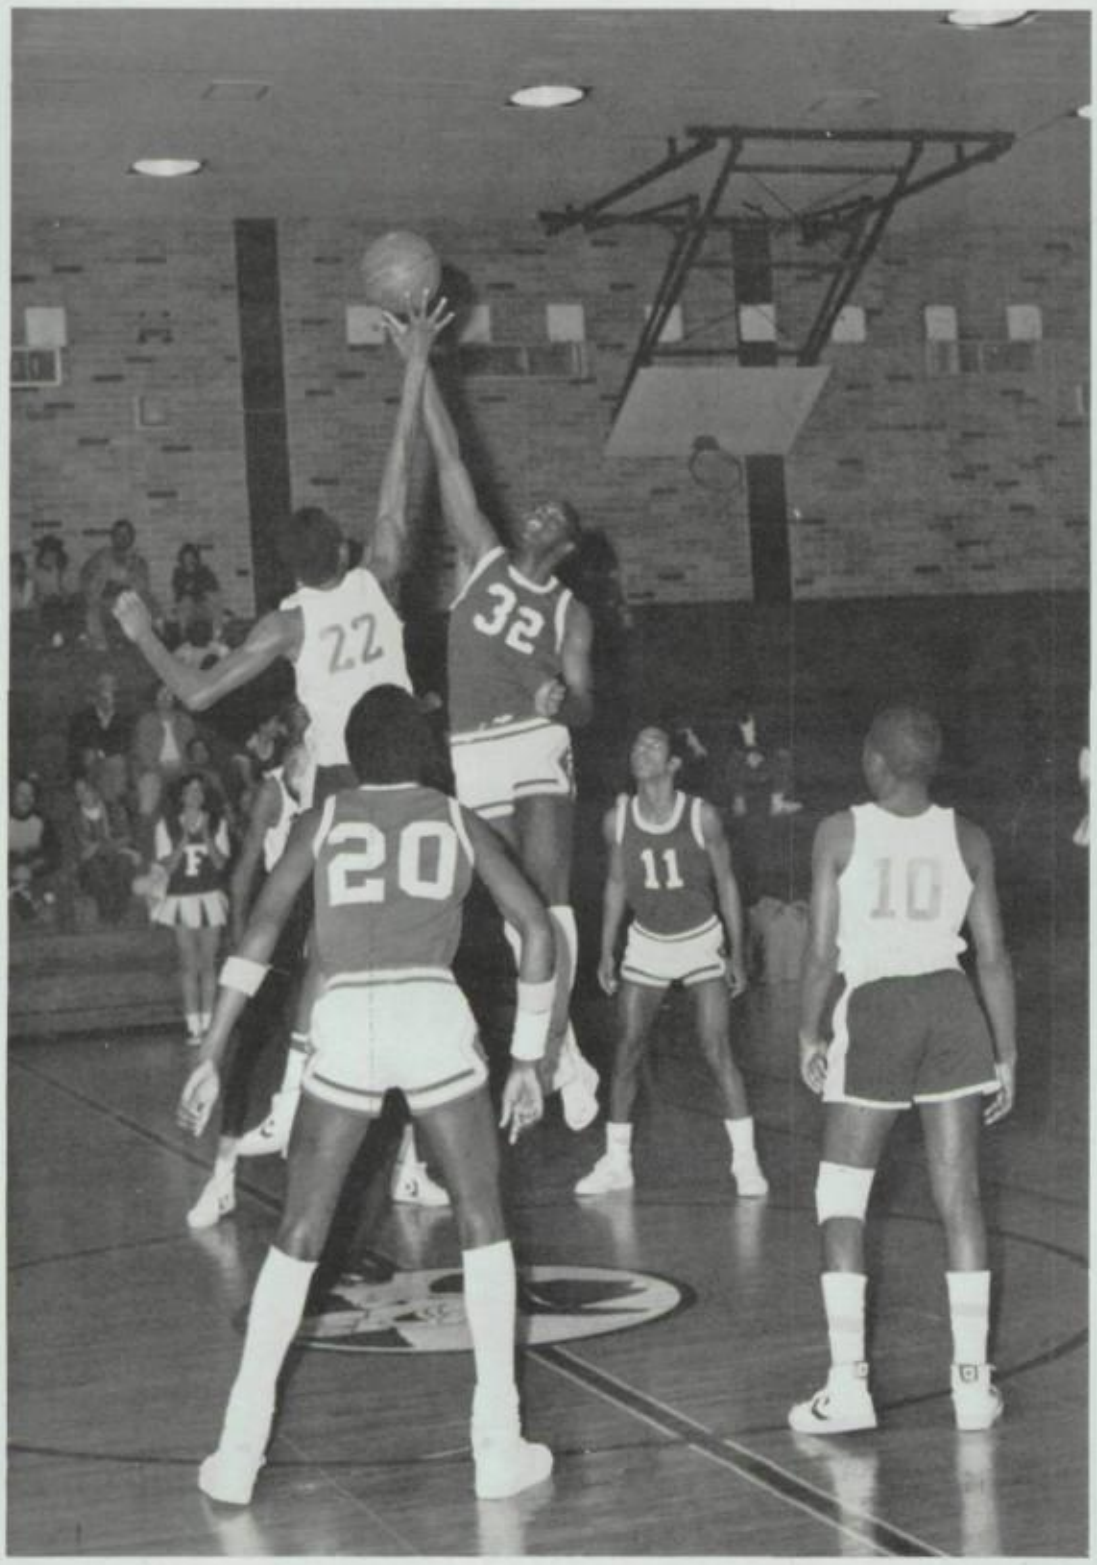
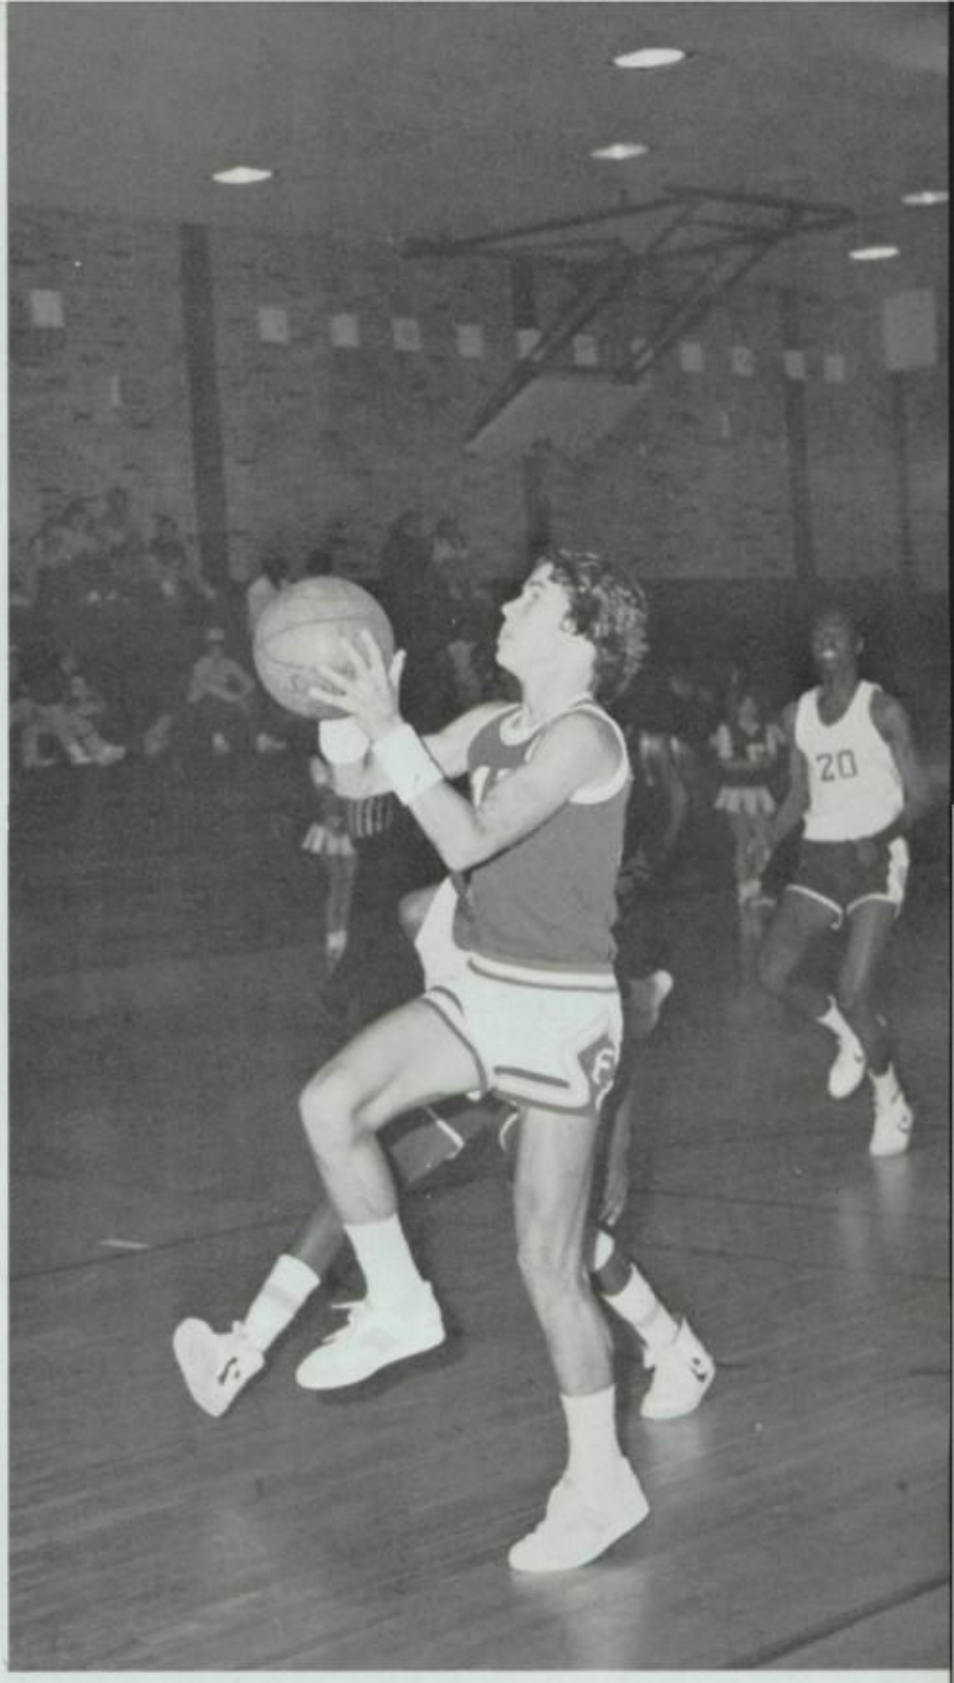
"SHOOT THE HOOP"

106/BOYS' J.V. BASKETBALL





The J.V. basketball team consisted of fourteen young, valuable men. Being a J.V. basketball player takes love for yourself, your teammates, pride in Fletcher and giving one hundred percent and more at all times.

Practices were held at 6:00 a.m. every day and games were scheduled at 4:30. The team cooperated very well together and trained exceptionally hard every day. Coach Lucas replied, "This team had the ability to be strong and physical." As for the team's weakness, he replied, "If this team had a weakness it was not on the basketball court."

The girls' junior varsity basketball team had a rather disappointing season. Twelve games were scheduled to be played, but because of other schools dropping their junior varsity programs, only five games were played. Our record for these five games was one win and four losses.

Coach Kathy Castle remarked, "Even though we had a discouraging season, I hope that the girls' experience from this year will work to our advantage next year".

The members of the team were Elizabeth Wilson, V'Anne Hazard, Tonita Bass, Beth Westmoreland, Elizabeth Neville, Laura Vanderwalker, Missy Thompson, Asli Goncer, and their manager, Jeannine Wall. 2. The Boys' Varsity Basketball Team's season began in December with long afternoons of hard practice. The practices and extra scrimmages before school and after practice paid off with a successful season. Their loyalty, unity, and determination held the team together. The conference games which they played were against Terry Parker, Wolfson, Forrest, and Lake City. The starting players and their positions were Alvin Blount, forward; David Kanaska, forward; Larry Philo, forward; Jerome Harrison, guard; Terrio Welch, guard; and Jerry Weikert, guard.

Coach Lucas, Coach Schreiber, and Head Coach Reynolds taught their players skill and performance. With these qualities they came out a winning team. Coach Lucas commented, "This team had a lot of character; we played up to our potential and could equally play any team in Jacksonville."

Jerome Harrison, a starting guard on the team, said why he was on the team. "Basketball helps me to get away from everyday pressures; it is a way of releasing frustrations."

Fletcher pride is what keeps the Lady Senators going both on and off the court. Their untiring devotion as well as talent and team spirit make the Lady Senators a great team. The basketball season got off to a late start since four of our starters were on the State Championship volleyball team. But the Lady Senators made up for this loss by averaging about two to three games a week. The rest of their time was spent practicing. All of this practice certainly showed in their performance on the court. Coach Reese commented, "We've done beautifully."

Greta Bahn was top scorer and was offered several scholarships. Amy McKee and Karla McCowan led the team in top rebounders. We must, however, take the bad with the good. The team was plagued with injuries. Teammates which were injured were Kelly Green, Kim Cerrata, Debbie Boyles, and Elizabeth Wilson. These temporary setbacks only made the Lady Senators work harder and stronger to be better than ever.

Kevin Durgin led the cross-country team to many victories during the season, which started the first week of school and ended the last week in November. The boys opened their season with the Greater Jacksonville Open where they ran the three-mile race and finished 10th out of teams from all over the state. The team ran in several dual meets against Forrest, and Wolfson where they won and Sandalwood and Terry Parker where they lost. The boys placed 21st in the Deland Invitational out of teams from the entire state. To get to Deland, the boys participated in a run-a-thon which started on October 3rd at 12:00 and ran for twenty-four hours. The boys then had three straight weeks of training before the Conference meet where they placed fourth. At District the boys' cross-country team won 6th place overall, with Kevin Durgin placing second. They then earned a bid to the regional meet in Tallahassee where the team finished fifth, with Kevin Durgin placing fifth overall. Kevin earned himself a State bid as an individual in Deland, Fla., where he finished 32nd in the state.

The cross-country team's season lasted from the first week of school through November 21st. During this time, they ran against many schools. For their first meet, the girls went to The Greater Jacksonville Open, which is a very big race with teams from all over the state. Our team ran the 2 mile race and finished 6th out of 15 teams. The girls also participated in dual meets such as against Sandalwood, where they won, against Forrest where they lost, against Wolfson, Terry Parker, and Bartram where the girls won all meets. For their second Invitational, the girls went to Deland, Fla. where they placed 18th out of 21 teams. To raise money in order to be able to participate at Deland and for new uniforms, the cross-country team had a run-a-thon, which means running for 24 hours as a relay. It started on Saturday, October 3 at 12:00 in the afternoon and finished on Sunday at 12:00. The girls trained very hard for Conference where they finished 2nd falling to Forrest Sr. High. Kelley Coker finished 1st and Anne Fitzpatrick finished 3rd overall. Both were awarded All Conference honors. After Conference the girls went to District where they finished 3rd in the city, with Anne Fitzpatrick placing 6th, and Kelley Coker 10th. The girls then earned their way to the Regional meet held in Tallassee where Anne Fitzpatrick placed 10th and Kelley Coker 13th. The team itself came in 3rd which earned them a State bid in Deland. The girls came in 14th in the state with Anne Fitzpatrick placing 24th.

The Junior Varsity football team is a learning experience. "If there is good stu-
3 dent participation, the outcome is always great," stated Coach Reynolds. This year's team was one of the smallest they've ever had, so the students really had to work hard for their victories. The team's record was three wins and four losses.

The Junior Varsity team had very few injuries; the few which did occur happened during summer practices.

Coach Reynolds said that on the J.V. level few changes had to be made; each season sees new players and each year's different.

1. Leon Oldham returns punt for touchdown. 2. Carl Williams runs for touchdown against Terry Parker. 3. Leon Oldham dives for extra yardage against Terry Parker. 4. The Fletcher Varsity football team have made their fellow students proud again. Even though the season started out unsuccessfully, they were determined to change and they did. Ending the season with 5 wins and 5 losses was a good comeback. Coach McCann, never expecting this comeback, told the players he would shave his head if they would win their last two games. The Senators did it, not only for their bald-headed coach but for the excellent spirit the players kept throughout the season.

Next year's Varsity team will see a major change. Fletcher will drop two AAA schools, Englewood and St. Augustine, and replace them with two state playoff teams, Vero Beach and Ed White.

Line-backer Terrio Welch, Defensive End Tim Beck, and Safety Alvin Blount received the title "All City Defense." Terrio Welch, Roger Agne, Tim Beck, Tom Burdett, Lehman Huff, Fred Law, and Alvin Blount received the title "All City Defense." Golf is one of the most popular of all outdoor sports in the United States. The girls' golf team spent many hours practicing to master this tough sport. Daily practice began in January at the Jacksonville Beach golf course. Competition with teams from other schools on Wednesday afternoons proved that the girls' efforts were not in vain. Low scores kept hopes for tournaments high.

It is not easy to find girls who have the time and determination to play the game of golf, but the girls' golf team was made up of five such dedicated girls. The team members returning from last year were Kathy Reichard and Brenda Howick. Starting members were Teresa Terrell, Sandi Homme, and Chriss Brown. Kathy Reichard, the team captain, commented, "We have a lot better team and a good chance of going to state."

It's a "booming" kick!!

The soccer team had a competitive season of which they were proud. They spent much time preparing for their games through strenuous practices and extra activities such as the Soccer-A-Thon. Toward the end of the season, Jarrett Stucki commented, "The team was used to playing a short passing, skillful game but we were forced away from that in the beginning of the season. We were hit with many injuries and had to play almost every game with three or four players hurt."

Coach Reynolds remarked, "The kids have done a good job this year and have put forth a terrific effort." The team's overall record was 14-4-3.

The starters on the team were goalie Tommy Sanchez; defenders Jarrett Stucki, Mike Philo, Jimmy Howell, and Jon Slaveski; midfielders Gary Stucki, Rich Pope, Juan Garland, and Jon Carter; and forwards Bobby Medallada, Todd Binns, and T.J. Lewis. Injuries kept John Suddarth from being the starting goalie at the end of the season.

Bobby Medallada, John Suddart, Gary Stucki, and Jon Slaveski had the honor of being on the first team All-conference. Other All-conference participants were Jarret Stucki, Rich Pope, Jon Carter, Mike Philo, Tommy Sanchez, and T.J. Lewis.

DEFENDING A STATE TITLE

When playing in a sport a person must be able to give the best of her ability to help make the team number one. The members of the softball team have done just that. Before the season had even started, the players would practice after school. Their activities included working with weights to increase the strength in their wrists and arms and running windsprints to increase their speed.

During the 1980-81 season, the team obtained the title of State Champs. They defeated a team in the semi-finals with the score of 15-0 in a 5-inning game. Later on they defeated the Lake Worth Seminoles with a score of 4-2 in the finals and gained their honorable title. "We accomplished a lot by winning state," stated Coach Kesler. "There were about ten returning players on the 1981 team and we were optimistic of having another good season."

In order for the team to defend their title, they had to put more effort into their performance. Several girls went to a softball camp over the summer to improve their skills. Leigh Griffin, one of the returning players, commented, "Summer camp was a lot of fun as well as an experience. I learned how college level teams differed from high school teams and learned special techniques to improve our game."

"When the team wins a meet it is a united effort in which everyone works hard to make the team its very best," remarked Scott McIntyre, a returning senior. His spirit shows the pride that the members have for their team. Besides the special unified effort there is the individual dedication of each member to improve and achieve his swimming goals. There is a certain challenge and excitement in swimming which makes it like no other sport.

The season began in January with afternoon practices and weight training. The Purple and White meet was held for the team members to race among themselves and to judge which event was their best competitively. The team then started morning practices along with the afternoon practices to prepare even more for the conference meets. The conference teams which they swam against were Forrest, Wolfson, Parker, and Sandelwood. The team also swam against Episcopal and Bolles.

The returning seniors were Robert Stratton, Kraig Peiguss, Scott Sadler, Scott McIntyre, James Johnson, and Mark Ossi. Coach Jarret especially wanted to commend those seniors for their leadership which helped to unite the team. The team was like "a large group of friends," especially since both the girls and boys swam together. "The best part of the team was that everyone helped everyone else to improve and to keep trying," stated Kraig Peiguss. As a meet, the Fletcher team always deserved "most spirited" because they were always there to cheer on their friends!!

In Argentina I had played water polo which gave me enough swimming experience to join the swim team at Fletcher." 5. Being a member of the swim team requires hard work, stamina, and a lot of dedication. It requires a will of steel to get in shape for competition and to wake up at 5:30 for practice. Coach Jarrett, Coach Grimes, and Coach Hallett worked their hardest to make sure each member was in top condition.

Practices began early in the season. They began every morning at 6:00 a.m. and after school at 3:00. Returning seniors this year were Mary Clemens, Ann Burns and Liz Tobin.

The season began with the traditional Purple and White meet. The team divided up and each member swam for his best times. This served to place swimmers in their fastest events for future meets. The team is confident that they will meet their goal of being number one at Gateway again this year, as in years before.

Swimmer Katherine Lou Johnston commented, "Practices are hard and take up a lot of time, but it is all worth it when we see our awards."

TENNIS BEGINS WITH LOVE

The tennis team, coached by Mr. Mike McCann, was a definite asset to our athletic department. The 1981-82 team's greatest effort was defending all the titles earned in the previous year. One of the titles was the District Two Championship, an honor held since 1975. Others earned were the 1981 Gateway East Championship and an eighth rank in the 1981 State Tournament.

Former members returned and new members joined to try to keep the good 1981 standings. Returning members included Henner Lenhardt, who was first singles player at Conference and District for 1981 and also ranked fourth in the state. Brandon Walters, another outstanding player, ranked second in both Conference and District and ninth in the state. Kelvin Borthwick ranked fourth in Conference, and Ken Purcell was fifth at District, all for the 1981 season. New members, who helped the team achieve success were senior exchange student, Petrie Mathys, junior Davey Turner, and sophomore Eric Wommack.

Matches for 1982 began March 1 and continued until the Conference Championship, held at Sawgrass on April 9. The District Championship was held April 21 at Boone Park.

The girls practice on the school courts after school, as shown here by Kelly McMann who practices her forehand stroke. Mrs. Cavallaro often gives the girls as many pointers as she can to aid the girls in their tennis game. 8. Kim Swindell practices receiving a serve.

Mastery of coordination and precision in stroking techniques are two important qualities in playing tennis, and every player on the girls' tennis team has these qualities.

Ms. Cavallaro, the coach of the team, had the girls practice every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. All the girls strove for excellence and worked hard to win their matches.

The most valuable player last year was Kim Temples. Kim spent a lot of time practicing, and her hard work was rewarded when she received a scholarship to Virginia Tech.

Ms. Cavallaro said that all the girls were worthy of praise because they all worked very hard. She was very proud of all the girls.

Sprinting, distance running, hurdling, jumping, discus throwing, and shot put are the components that make up the boys track team. The athletes on this team practiced long and hard before and after school to improve the skills needed for competition. In the mornings the athletes would run 3 to 4 miles. In the afternoons they would work on field events and relays. At all times the athletes worked on speed, flexibility, and endurance. All this hard work payed off in the dual meets and invitationals in which they competed. The better athletes advanced to conference, district, and regionals.

The outstanding athletes were Keith Powell—sprinter; Kevin Durgin—distance runner; Roger Agne—shot put; John Dawson—discus; and Larry Hobbs—long jump.

Winning the State Championship in Girls' Volleyball wasn't easy, but that is exactly what Mrs. Caron's Champion team did. Their final record was 30-4-2.

All-conference was the first major accomplishment and both Karen Bartolette and Greta Bahn were given special recognition for their efforts. Next came regionals, sectionals, and finally the playoff for the State title against Boward. This game ended after two rounds in a score of 15-7 and 15-4.

During the year, the team won first place in the Bolles volleyball tournament and second place in Lee tournament. Recognition was given again to Karen Bartolette and Greta Bahn and also Ginny Alexander. Their talent and athletic ability was well known by then.

Captains Diane Ousley and Patti Wasloski led the team with determination and motivation. Starter and Captain Diane Ousley commented, "Leadership is a most important factor when being a captain on a competitive team." The starters of the team were Diane Ousley, Patti Wasloski, Ginny Alexander, Kelly Greene, Karen Bartolette, and Maria Ramirez.

The loss of many talented seniors from last year's championship team meant that the wrestlers had to spend much effort on rebuilding their team. The season ended with an overall record of 7 wins and 6 losses. The senior caprains that led the team were David Castle and Tim Elliot.

Our school again hosted the Christmas Tournament, which resulted in a big success. Seven schools participated in this tournament and the team placed sixth. The conference tournament was also held at our school and six schools were involved in that.

The third annual wrestle-a-thon was held January ninth from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. The team, managers, cheerleaders and the coach participated in this even to raise funds to pay for the new mat. Altogether, 800 dollars were collected.

Commented Coach Paugh, "This has been an enjoyable season working with an eager group of young men."

• FACULTY • COURSES •

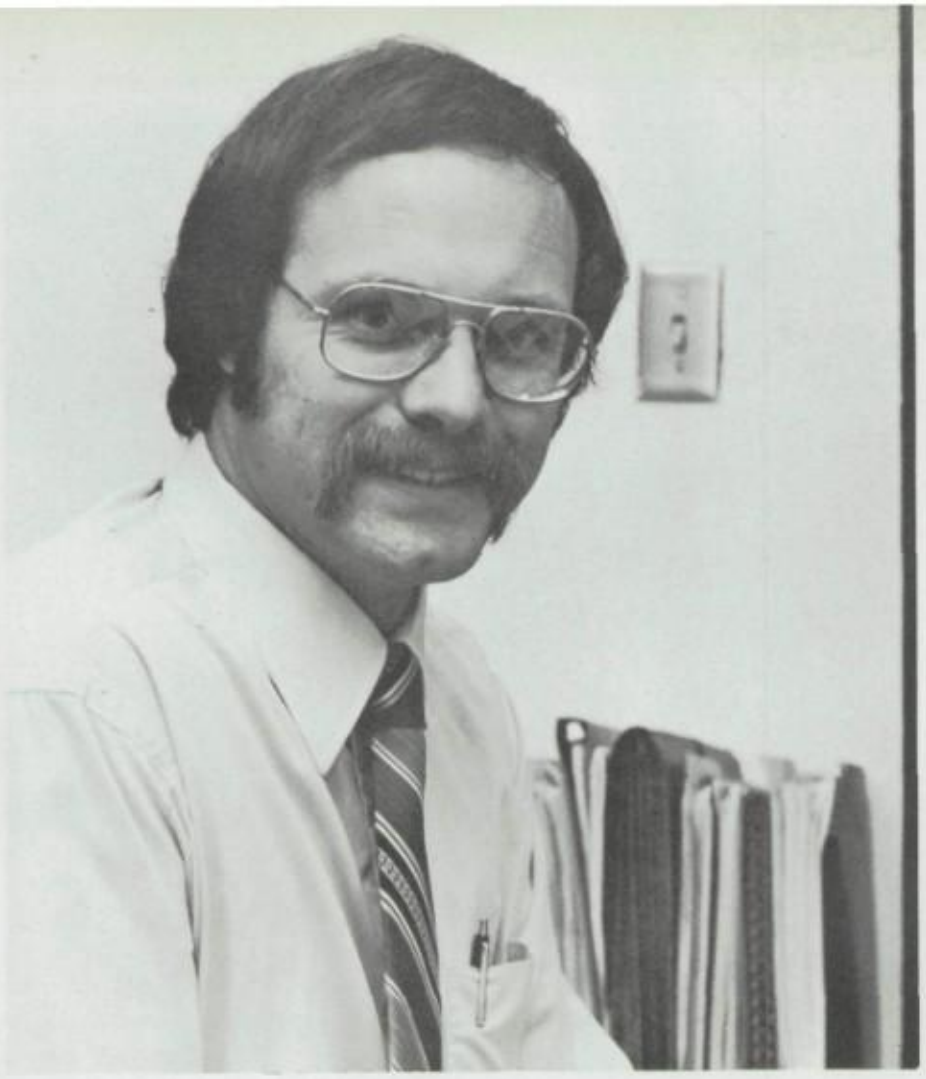
The primary responsibility of the school principal is to provide effective leadership in the development and implementation of a comprehensive program of instruction, the sole purpose of which is to prepare its graduates to be productive members of the society in which they live.

"The most enjoyable aspect of my job is talking and working with the students at Fletcher Senior High School and hopefully influencing their lives in a positive way," emphasized Dr. Ragans. When asked if he had a favorite quotation he would like to share, he responded with Christian Bovee's saying, "Doubt whom you will, but never yourself."

As the students have gotten to know Dr. Ragans better since his arrival last year, they have gained a greater respect and trust in him. He has stood by his principles and fulfilled Fletcher's needs.

The new vice-principal, Mr. Disch, is a welcomed asset for the school. His experience and dedication have led to helpful changes and decisions. His responsibilities include maintenance of the facilities, supervision of the custodial staff and cafeteria staff, buses, building inventory, and teacher observation.

Mr. Disch especially enjoys Fletcher because of the pleasant atmosphere including the fine student body, faculty, and staff. He stated that, "The people are fun to be around and Fletcher is a first class building that is a pleasure to work in." He said that the best thing that can be said about someone is that, "He gave it his best shot."



Mr. Morrison is the assistant principal for community education. His responsibilities are extensive and they help to tie the school in with the community. He programs community education activities which are offered in the community school held at Fletcher. These activities include academic, recreational, social, cultural, and personal enrichment services. Working for the community, he both determines the needs of the school and community and identifies the resources to meet these needs. Thus, he performs a variety of administrative functions to efficiently meet the needs of operating a successful community school program.

The assistant principal for student services is Mr. Reynolds. His major tasks are to administer appropriate disciplinary action, to supervise attendance procedures and the clinic, and to confer with students, teachers, and parents concerning any student problems. As Dean of Boys, he offers much support to students and promotes understanding and discipline.

The Dean of Girls and assistant principal of student services is Mrs. Cooper.

"Only knowledge can make one truly free, and to acquire knowledge he must, for a time at least, surrender part of his freedom and accept the discipline of learning," remarked the Dean of Girls and assistant principal for student services, Mrs. Cooper. Dedicated and thorough, she enforces the code of conduct, supervises attendance, handles free-lunch applications, conducts the appeal process and office staff, manages the clinic, and her favorite part—counsels the students. Often when girls have a problem in school, they know they can turn to Mrs. Cooper for help and guidance.

Mr. Albert is the Curriculum Coordinator. His curriculum office is the "hub" of the high school. He handles announcements, memos, forms, schedules, course offerings, curriculum guides, reports, class totals, and room assignments. All this leads to "the smoothest possible flow of each student's educational progress." Mr. Albert stated, "We care about each individual; and we care about everyone."

Mrs. Riddell is the secretary to our principal. Her responsibilities include typing letters, reports, bulletins, keeping his calendar, making appointments, screening incoming calls, making local and long distance calls, filing, and other secretarial work required by the principal. In her spare time, Mrs. Riddell likes gardening and walking on the beach.

Mrs. Jane Young is the switchboard operator. Her job requires answering calls and taking messages. In her spare time, she enjoys sewing, gardening, swimming, and being with her family.

Mrs. Long—clerk

Mrs. Betty Hunsinger is our attendance clerk. Her responsibilities include typing the daily absentree list, contacting parents when students have missed five and seven days, and assisting other clerks with typing and running copies on the Xerox machine. In her spare time, Mrs. Hunsinger enjoys bike riding, swimming, and yard work.

Mrs. B. Caldwell is a clerk in the main office. Her responsibilities include greeting visitors and answering any questions they may have, assisting in the withdrawing and entering of students, keeping the homeroom rolls and checking the registers for the quarterly report. She also does the ordering of all school supplies for all departments and assists the bookkeeper with the budget. In her spare time, Mrs. Caldwell enjoys being with her family.

Mrs. Taylor—clerk

Ms. Muff Davis works in the main office. Her responsibilities include Xeroxing and typing material for teachers and administrative staff. She likes her job because of the "Saturdays and Sundays."

Mrs. Becky Withers is a clerk in the library. She likes her job because "It's great working with teenagers. It gives me a purpose in life." In her spare time, Mrs. Withers likes to bowl, sew, do crafts, and garden. Her favorite saying is "You are just as young as you think you are."

Mrs. Huff—clerk

Mrs. Lucy Ridge is a library secretary. She likes her job because her work is pleasant and always a challenge. She also enjoys meeting the needs of others. Mrs. Ridge enjoys spending time with her family.

Mrs. Bunny Antonis is our bookkeeper. Her responsibilities include handling all of the money that comes from fund raising and activities. She keeps the Internal Account records and issues receipt books. In her spare time, Mrs. Antonis enjoys bowling, dancing, and collecting bunnies from all over the world.

Mrs. Latimer—clerk

Mrs. Denise Smith is the Dean of Girls secretary. Her job requires calling the girls that are absent, distributing re-admits, and delivering messages to girls from parents. In her spare time, Mrs. Smith enjoys being with her family, and reading the Bible. Mrs. Smith likes her job because it keeps her mind active.

Mrs. McCue—clerk

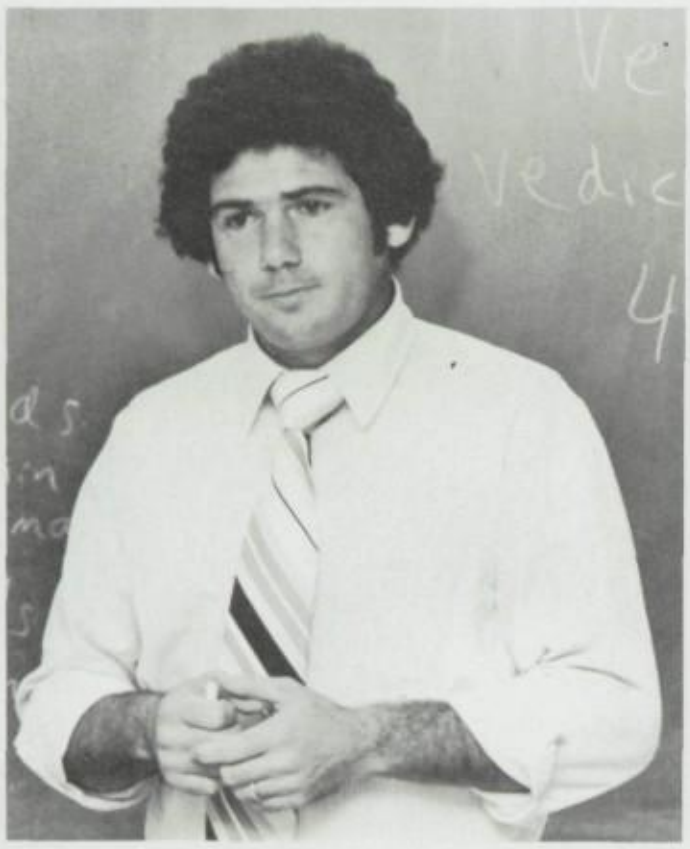
In 1980, he and his wife moved to Oahu, Hawaii, where he worked making surfboards for Lightning Bolt and Surf Line, Hawaii. This is his first year as a full time teacher here, although he substituted and did his student teaching here. In his spare time he still shapes surfboards for Atlantis and Strickland. He is also a member of the Eastern Surfing Association (ESA) and surfs competitively.



Mr. Wircher: World History

Mrs. Pearl White: Physical Education

PERSPECTIVE, DEPTH . . .

Perspective, depth, and vanishing point are just a few of the everyday terms used by Mr. Mischenko and Ms. Siegel while teaching the students of our art program. We should feel proud to have two outstanding artists in our midst. Mr. Mischenko specializes in drawing and painting. Ms. Siegel prefers 3-D forms such as pottery and sculpture. She taught a new sculpting class which was the only one of its kind in Jacksonville public schools.

Ms. Siegel was awaiting the beginning of a club and a business type class where the advanced ceramics class would be run and managed as a business. This project is the first of many ideas in the planning. Other plans are a mural for the cafeteria which may be finished by the end of the school year. This mural will reflect over three years of creativity, hard work, and patience while it will also create a brighter atmosphere.

Art is usually viewed as a relaxing form of recreation, but at the same time it should be taken as seriously as an "academic class." Instead of viewing and observing, students in the various art programs are acting and participating. Both Mr. Mischenko and Ms. Siegel share this idea. Mr. Mischenko feels that, "The purpose of the art program is not to make artists, but to let students become visually aware. What most people don't realize is that they are already art consumers, having to make artistic decisions every time they purchase anything from houses to cars."

As in years past, different art projects are chosen and displayed in various sections of the city. Towards the end of last year more works were chosen from our school than any other school.

Heidi Leininweber and Donna Houghton voiced a general opinion. "We had never taken art class before and this gives us the chance to explore our capabilities."

1. Griff James shows his satisfaction at his first pottery attempt. 2. Mr. Mischenko ponders over the problem, as Terry Kizer talks about her project. 3. Donna Lunning puts the final touches on her clay pot.

ONE MUSICAL FAMILY

Adding spice and spirit to fans is the job of the Marching Band, and they achieve this at every ballgame and pep rally. Mr. Ponder directs and leads the Marching Band in local and statewide competition.

Ms. Talton has the tremendous job of chorus, jazz ensemble, music theory, and the other new courses in voice that were added.

The Madrigal Choral group was introduced to the chorus curriculum to enable students to learn about music of the 1500's and 1600's, also known as the Renaissance.

Ms. Talton feels, "Teenagers have popular music pumped in and out of their ears and don't often get a chance to appreciate music of another century."

Other new courses include Treble Chorus and Men's Ensemble. These are advanced groups that offer a musical challenge. The new choral groups competed in district competition, and their performances reflected the hard work and practice involved.

Three night performances were planned for Oct., Dec., and April, while they also performed in various nursing homes, at Regency, and in other areas in the community.

The Orchestra creates a small symphonic sound with the violins, cellos, and Treble Bass blending together to create a refined musical tone. This is only achieved through long hours of hard work. This however does pay off when a member is chosen to participate in the Jacksonville Youth Symphony, Jacksonville Community Symphony, and the All State Symphony.

Ms. Talton explained that music is comparable to any advanced math course when considering timing, tempo, and rhythm. From Music Theory to the Jazz Ensemble each student learns to appreciate and understand music and its background.

1. During band class, Mike Jhirmack attempts a new piece on his trombone. 2. Ms. Talton and the Girls Chorus put long hard hours into perfecting a composition. 3. Rick Ard has a solo in the grand finale.

PLANNING AHEAD

Students take business courses for various reasons. Some enroll in these classes to become familiar with the business world. Some students like to just see what the courses are like and end up planning a career in business. Others use stenography and shorthand for note taking in the subjects they are studying in school.

Kelly Cheary said, "At first I took Accounting just out of curiosity. Now it's become a career objective for me."

According to the curriculum guide, "Business courses are offered to provide an effective program of instruction for students desiring careers in business and office occupations, to make an important contribution to the economic literacy of all students, and to provide foundation programs for students who plan post-high school and higher education in the fields of business and office education."

CRASH, BANG, BOOM

Driver's Education is a very beneficial course for many students. They learn defensive driving skills through simulator use, driving on the range, and street driving.

The simulator is a machine with a series of films which teach how to handle driving situations. The range is used to learn driving maneuvers such as forward and backward serpentine and parallel parking. Street driving is to give students confidence in real situations on the street.

1. As John King takes a quiz, he finds the questions easy. 2. While using the simulator, Steve Bourgeois thinks about a question. 3. Finishing up his range driving, Bill Connell gets out after parking the car. 4. Observing carefully, Mr. Thurman corrects a student.

¡QUE UNA CLASE!

Fletcher Sr. High is highly accredited in the foreign language department with well-trained teachers in German, French and Spanish. Because many colleges have begun to place increased emphasis on foreign languages, Latin has been added to the curriculum.

Taking a foreign language could become an advantage in one's life, especially when applying to colleges or for a job. Many colleges require a student to have at least two years of a foreign language before being admitted. Other colleges mandate that a student have a foreign language credit before being allowed into certain courses. When applying for a job, it is always helpful to list knowledge of a foreign language as one of your skills, especially if the job involves an assignment overseas.

1. Mr. Leibinger points to a student during a French lesson. 2. James Ponte listens attentively. 3. Melinda Cox finds a humorous dialogue in her Spanish book. 4. The class listens as Mike Eiras practices speaking in French.

PEER COUNSELORS?!

Counselors provide students with information on colleges, careers, scholarships, and financial aid. They help with enrolling new students, with registration, and with the administration of tests, such as the SAT and ACT. Also, Guidance sponsors a course called "REACH," consisting of 17 students who practice counseling skills such as learning to trust and to be open with each other and to listen. They welcome sophomores, new students, and foreign students and act as peer facilitators.

A STITCH IN TIME

1. Mrs. Morgan takes time out to assist Wayne Branton with his classwork. 2. Mrs. Stewart gladly lends Cathy Cleary a helping hand with her pattern. 3. After a luncheon for the faculty, Mary Stevenson samples the food.

The Home Economics Department offers a variety of courses that are designed to help students prepare for the future. When asked why she decided to teach home economics, Mrs. Stewart replied, "I enjoy the subject matter. I also like working in a lab situation where the students get to work with their hands as well as their brain. It's a very practical course."

The home economics classes range from sewing a dress to caring for children. Some popular classes include: the Family Living class, the Food Production and Services class, and the Child Car class. In the Family Living class, the students learn to handle problems in a family, how to care for families, and other necessities of families. The Food Production and Services class was designed to include a study of the types of food service institutions and related areas that provide opportunities for employment. Specialized activities include laboratory experiences in basic quantity food preparations and the use of various types of meal services. An example of this is the luncheons that are prepared for the teachers and the cakes that are sold to the faculty on special holidays. This year Mrs. Morgan and her class made a cake for Dr. Ragans in honor of his birthday. The Little Senators are handled by the Child Care class. The Little Senators are a group of pre-school kids who are brought to the school by their parents. Here, they are helped by students to prepare them for a future in school. When asked why she decided to take a home economics class, Senior Jo Chism jokingly replied, "Home economics allows me to 'stitch' together the pieces of my future."

PLASTICS, METALS, WOODS

Industrial arts can lead to a lifetime hobby and interest or prepare a student for a career. This department includes courses that allow a person to work on a project on his own. All of this work is carefully supervised by the teachers to ensure safety. Industrial Arts offers many choices to any interested person. One choice is Woodworking, which is taught by Mr. R. Jones, who shows the students how to work with woods and how to paint and varnish it. Metal Working teaches students how to cut, weld, and make projects out of bench, sheet and machine metals. This course is taught by Mr. Doty. Other classes include Plastics taught by Mr. Watts, Drafting with Mr. Kenyon and Graphics with Mr. Stephens. When asked why he enjoyed his industrial arts class, Tony Todd replied, "The projects are a lot of fun and you can learn a handy skill that might help you in the future."

EDUCATION FROM EXPERIENCE

In order to graduate each student must have three credits in Language Arts. Language Arts courses play an important role in the students' understanding of the English language and its history.

Most of these classes involve grammar, literature, and the research and writing of formal papers. Activities include reading major literary works and studying the basic fundamentals and structure of the English language.

Some of these courses such as Humanities, offer the experience of art and literature. In the spring some Humanities students take a trip to New York. When asked what Language Arts has done for her, Kim Wright said, "By studying American literature in my English class I have come to more fully understand my American History class."

THE NUMBERS GAME

Although math is not everyone's favorite subject, students are required to take two full years of it. Courses range from Business Math to Calculus. Math plays an important role in a student's education, because it gives him the fundamentals needed for college and every day life.

Math reaches the student concepts necessary to function in society. When asked why math is a necessity, Mr. Grossberg said, "It allows a student to lead a more useful life." Also offered is computer math taught by Mrs. Free. This course shows the advancement of our modern learning experience.

As a concluding remark, Mrs. Cavallaro stated that Algebra II is fun. "When a student has no plans for the weekend, he or she can always get out an Algebra book and enjoy doing the word problems!"

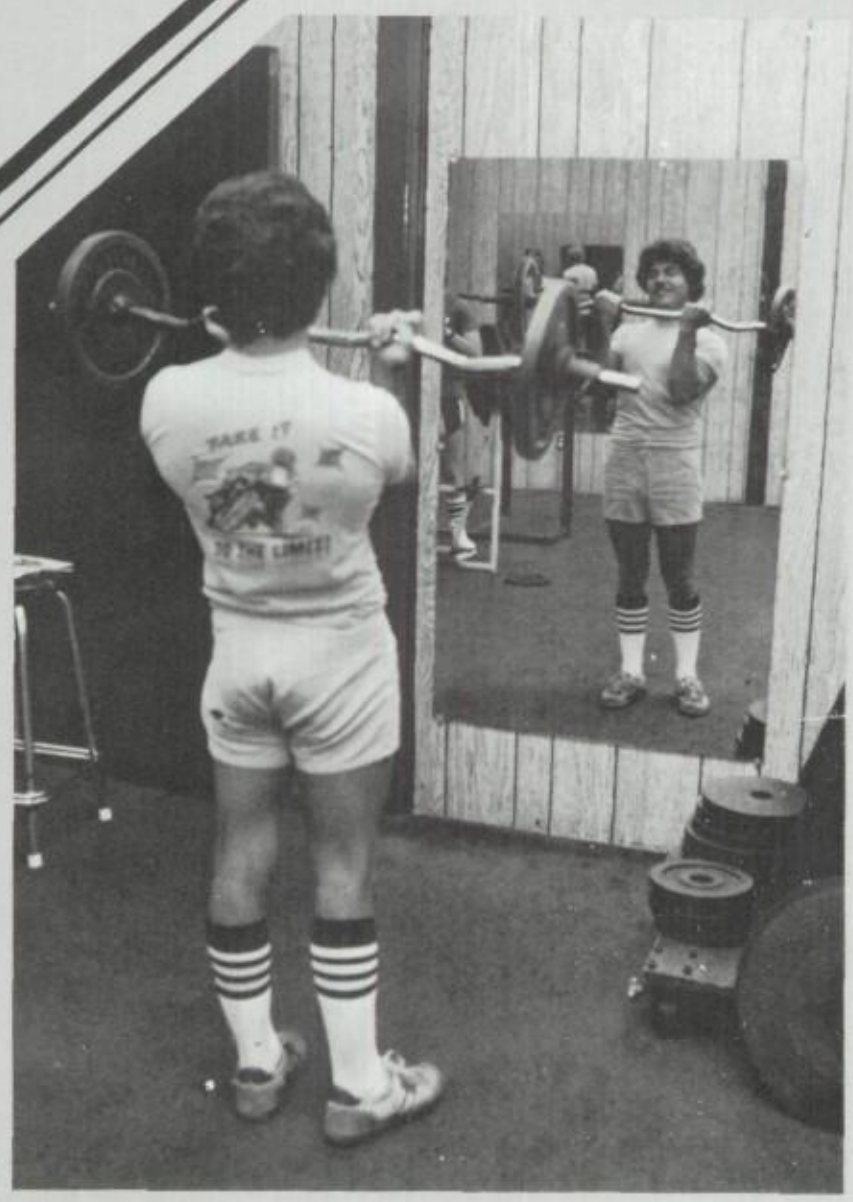
PHYSICAL CONDITIONING



Enrollment in our physical education courses has increased due to the wide variety of sports offered. These sports are chosen on the basis of demand by the students. Some of these are bowling, aerobic dancing, tennis, swimming, and even senior life saving.

Sophomores are required to complete Foundations, a nine weeks period consisting of physical fitness tests, exercise, and the conditioning of the body, before they can advance to other sports. The students train their bodies to improve function and enhance fitness.

Karen Cockey, a senior, has already completed her required credit and is still taking another P.E. course. She feels that by taking the course she will be able to stay in shape and improve her tennis game. Then when tennis season starts, she will be ready. Often the varsity sports require their participants to take a P.E. class during sixth period. That way the teams get more practice time and experience. Any physical stamina and fitness require both dedication and desire.

1. Hard work and practice have brought Jeff Carlin, a senior, the accomplishment of lifting the barbell with ease. 2. The class sits in a group and listens as Mrs. Caron gives instructions for the next activity. 3. During third period weight training class, students help each other with their exercises.

BUILDING BLOCKS OF LIFE

Our science department offers a wide variety of courses. The courses branch into the two main divisions of science, both physical and biological. The students acquire scientific knowledge and skills which help them to understand the natural laws which govern the universe. Through study they also have a better understanding of the technological society in which they live.

The courses range from learning about elastic collisions in physics, to learning cell processes in biology, to learning the bones of the body in anatomy and physiology. Most science oriented students take science all three years of high school, though only two credits are required. These students gain a valuable background in science before entering college. Bertina Candelore commented, "I'm taking Anatomy/Physiology to lay down the foundation for my possible future in a medical career." Science is a very important asset for those who plan on making a career out of science. Science presents itself as the building blocks of life in many ways.

1. In Marine Biology, Tim Mullins poses with a stuffed fish, which was used as an example in class. 2. In biology, students learn how to properly use a microscope. Candy Sewell examines one of her slides. 3. During fifth period Advanced Biology II class, Mrs. Rigsbee explains a difficult problem for Victoria Kovacs.

LEARNING ABOUT THE PAST

Over the years, the social studies department has tried to offer more of what the students want. Most of the social studies courses are electives. Increasing enrollment in psychology and sociology classes indicates that students are becoming more interested in themselves and those around them. Psychology provides explanation and insight into people's actions, motives, thoughts, and emotions, while sociology studies group interaction and its effects on the individual. Two other semester-long courses are Anthropology, which deals with man and his cultural behavior, and Human Relations, which combines the concepts of psychology and sociology.

In addition to these courses, students may also choose from a variety of history courses including Bible History, Florida History, American History, World History, and Advanced European History. Comparative Institutions, Introduction to Social Studies, and World Geography are the three remaining courses offered. These courses help the students to understand themselves and their environment and prepare for enrollment in colleges or technical schools.

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE

Every day a portion of the student body rides school buses to the three vocational skills centers located in Duval County. Sophomores follow a basic course of study for a two-hour block in the morning, while juniors take intermediate courses for a three-hour block in the afternoon. Seniors have a choice of on-the-job training or pursuing an advanced course schedule for three hours in the afternoon.

Among the courses offered at the Southside, Westside, and Northside Skills centers are automotive mechanics, appliance repair, sheet metal work, and welding. Students may also choose to learn masonry, carpentry, commercial and advertising art, or cosmetology.

The vocational skills centers prepare the student to enter gainful employment upon graduation from high school. They teach the skills necessary for the student's chosen trade or industrial occupation and give information concerning personal qualities needed by an individual to succeed in the world of work.

1. Boarding the bus, Tim Barnhart leaves for carpentry class at the skills center. 2. Gerald Gribbin sits quietly in a homeroom for skills center students. 3. Richard O'Reilly pauses before boarding the bus on his way to one of the skills centers.

The Senior officers have strived to help make everyone's senior year a memorable one. The Class of '82 officers were as pictured, left to right; Edette Young, secretary; Mary Clemons, Vice President; Bobby Boeneke, Treasurer; Stephanie Yockey, President; and Cindy Sonntag, Historian. Not pictured was Shannon Armstrong, Chaplain.

Their responsibilities are to plan and participate in such activities as Senior Breakfast, Skip Day, Grad Night, Hat day, Snob day, Senior Cruise, and much more!! The seniors rely on these officers to represent and help them throughout their Senior year.

SENIOR SPONSORS

The Senior sponsors are probably the three most important people who are involved with the senior class. The sponsors are Mr. Abdelnour, who teaches Advanced World and European History; Mr. Brandhorst, who teaches Advanced American History and Psychology; and Mr. Littlejohn, a science teacher.

The sponsors oversee all activities in which the seniors partake and set up the Senior Cruise. When asked what the sponsors do, Mr. Abdelnour said, "We act as advisors to the senior class and we try to look at things which have worked in the past that might work for them now and in the future."

MOST ATHLETIC

Greta Bahn and Terrio Welch were selected the most athletic seniors. Greta is very dedicated to sports. In the past she has played on teams that have won many titles. She was one of the members selected to be on the All City AAU team. Terrio Welch is also involved in sports activities. Recently he was named the city's Defensive Player of the Year in football. When asked why they enjoy being in sports, Greta replied, "I enjoy it because I like being active and in shape." Terrio commented, "Sports keep me busy and it has been a part of me for as long as I can remember."

SENIOR BREAKFAST

The Senior Breakfast was held on October 13th at Ramada Inn. This was the first activity for the year to inform the seniors of upcoming events. Seated at the head table were the Senior Class Officers. They are as follows: Stephanie Yockley, president; Mary Clemens, vice president; Edette Young, secretary; Bobby Boeneke, treasurer; Shannon Armstrong, chaplain. Also seated at the head table were Dr. Ragans, Mr. Disch, and the Senior Class Sponsors Mr. Abdelnour, Mr. Brandhorst, and Mr. Littlejohn. Special entertainment was provided by the Blues Brothers Dave Tucker and Jim Stepp.

Some important events discussed were Sr. stationery, caps and gowns, Senior Cruise, and Grad Nite.

FRIENDLIEST

Everyone likes to have friends that he can count on to speak well of him and cheer him up when he is down. Two such worthy friends are Sandy Spring and Shannon Armstrong. The senior class selected these two popular students to be Friendliest out of a class of nearly six hundred students. Sandy Spring was voted Miss Congeniality by the other participants in last year's Miss Fletcher contest. Shannon Armstrong, a well-known football player, is often imitated at pep rallies by patting people on the back and shaking hands. Sandy and Shannon felt very honored and were glad to know that they are so well liked.

"A MONEY TREE?"

"Good morning Dad . . . I forgot to tell you that I need money for: senior pictures, the yearbook, graduation announcements, college applications, cap and gown, Grad Night, and the Senior Cruise. Oh, and I need it today!" So went many early morning conversations.

Seniors spent money for a variety of expenses. Throughout the year, a lot of "green stuff" had to be forked out. Although finding the magical money tree seemed to be a big task, the students felt it necessary to participate in all activities. Betsy Wynn remarked, "I think that the money spent on activities isn't as important as what it is spent for."

MOST INDIVIDUAL

Being chosen the most individual means that a person is well-known among others and is one that stands out in a crowd. Mark Deichmiller and Berta Kane were selected as being this. Berta is involved in many school activities. She is president of Theta and represented the club as a candidate for Homecoming Queen. Mark is vice-president of FJAS, a member of Brain Brawl, and a player on the soccer team. When asked how they felt about being chosen, they replied, "We are all microcosmically incarcerated within the infundibular human condition. In virtute sunt multi ascensus."

COLLEGE PLANNING

ACT, SAT, CLEP tests, achievement tests, applications, interviews, scholarships, financial aid, college visits, college night, special classes, guidance counselors, Decisions decisions! Help!! A major part of the senior year is making important decisions. Seniors must choose the road to take which will lead them to their futures. With the care and advice of parents, guidance counselors, and friends, the student makes his final choices. Two of the popular colleges are the University of Florida and Florida State University, because they are close to home and the students get family support as well.

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED

Being voted "Most Likely to Succeed" is certainly an honor and this honor was extended to Christy Kruger and Ben McMillian. This title gives merit to their activities in school functions, their academic excellence, and their special and sincere personalities.

Christy Kruger was president of Anchor, a Key Club sweetheart, and an Interact calendar girl. Both were NHS members and National Merit semi-finalists. Ben McMillian also has a long list of accomplishments. He was involved in Boys' State, listed in Who's Who among American High School Students, and a member of the math field day, football, and track teams.

SENIOR LUNCHROOM

As a senior privilege, the far section of the cafeteria is exclusively for the upper most classmen, the seniors. This allows the seniors to leisurely eat their lunches at a quiet, comfortable, smaller table instead of at the normal bench-like group tables.

Besides being more colorful these tables allow one to sit on a chair. At the senior tables the student can "munch-out" with a single friend, or have a luncheon with a group of eight.

Here, we have pictured Berta Kane and David Bowers who from experience have chosen to "brown-bag" their lunches.

MOST SPIRITED

Karen McNeill and Griff James were awarded this year's title of "Most School Spirited." These two seniors were involved in many school activities. Karen has been a cheerleader since junior high school and acted as this year's team captain. Her generous smile could make anyone believe Fletcher was best. Griff performed as Fletcher's Senator mascot during the home football games. He also participated in the Cross Country and Track teams. Griff was also a dedicated member of Spanish club and Student Council. These two seniors really set the pace for us in cheer, spirit, and enthusiasm.

BLOOD BANK DRIVE

Do the words "Blood Drive" send chills up and down your back? If so maybe you were one of the many who participated in the various Blood Banks set up in the Auditorium. On three occasions during Dec., Feb., and in April, students were given the chance to donate their time, and blood. As motivation, a club was awarded a prize for having the most donors. And very attractive sun visors were given to the first time contributors.

The main benefit for a donation is that if you are ever in need of blood this enables you to receive it free of charge. If donated into the school's private account any student can receive your blood free of charge also.

MOST STUDIOUS

Mindy Pipho and Clay Boswell were selected Most Studious by the student body. They are two of the top ranked students in their class. After high school, Clay plans to attend college but is not sure where he will go. Mindy, like Clay, is not sure where she will attend college. However, she plans to major in Computer Science. Clay feels it is important to learn things well to make it in life. When asked what motivated her, Mindy replied, "I've always wanted to do as well as my sisters have done in school, because I admire their accomplishments. It was their drive and persistance which made them leaders in their class and in their lives."

GRAD NIGHT/CRUISE

Grad night is a time Disney World sets aside for graduating seniors. They close the park to all other visitors, clean it, and then open it for the seniors.

For a few dollars more, seniors can participate in a "blast off" party. This special affair includes a dinner, a dance, and an early tour of Tomorrow Land.

Mr. Brandhorst, who has gone to Disney World nine times, remarked, "There's so much to do, that you can't help but have a good time."

Another activity for the graduating senior is the spring Senior Cruise which allows students to visit exotic places in the Caribbean.

MOST TALENTED

"I feel performing the talents that you have learned, and being able to show your intermost feelings while expressing them, is a talent in itself," commented Rick Ard after having been selected "most talented" along with Denise Abdullah. They were selected on the basis of their ability to sing, to act, and to play musical instruments. These are talents which come from the heart and take much persistence and drive to accomplish. Both were members of the band and participated in Bye Bye Birdie, a school musical. Denise has also performed at the Alhambra Dinner Theater and was voted most talented in Miss Fletcher.

"SKIP DAY"

A traditional senior activity was the annual senior "skip day." The special day occured on the eighty-second day before school was out. Many students got together and celebrated. Often friends will have a house party or a fancy group luncheon. This day was in honor of the seniors' excitement and expectation of graduation.

"Skip day" is another part of Senioritis. Though the school may count the absence as unexcused, the students consider it a holiday. As shown in the picture to the left, Freida Stewart and Rob Ewing are checking out the parking lot before leaving to have a free day as Seniors.

WITTIEST

Almost every class has a funny person. This person's little quips and silly antics bring a more cheerful atmosphere to the classroom and brighten up everyone's day. The senior class set out to choose the two students that they felt were especially witty. Amy Wilson and David Tucker received the honor of being voted "wittiest." When asked what inspired her to be so witty, Amy stated, "In order for me to be happy, I strive to make others happy without expecting anything in return." David also believes making people laugh makes him feel special. Both were glad to know their classmates appreciate their witty remarks.

GRADUATION!!

The class of '81 held its graduation commencement exercises at Veterans Memorial Coliseum. The excitement filled the air on May 29, 1981 as the graduates prepared to walk down the aisle to receive their diplomas. The podium was filled with members of the faculty, prominent city residents, and other dignitaries. The Valedictorian, Lori Lewis, and the Salutatorian, Brad Howick, were also seated on the podium. One highlight during the ceremony was guest speaker Walt Dunbar, a sports director for Channel 12 t.v. The presentation of the diplomas was by Dr. Ragans and School Board Chairman Dr. Corwin.

JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior Class worked very hard to make 1982 the best ever. With the help of Sponsors Mrs. Free and Mrs. Sweeney, they got off to a good start. The juniors nominated and elected a person to hold each important office. Those chosen were Elizabeth Scott for president, Mary Thompson for vice-president, Melissa Mendoza for treasurer and Laura Vaughn for secretary. This group led the class in raising money to plan the Junior-Senior Prom. Magazine sales and T-shirt sales were some of the fund-raisers for the dance. They were also involved in the selling of class rings.

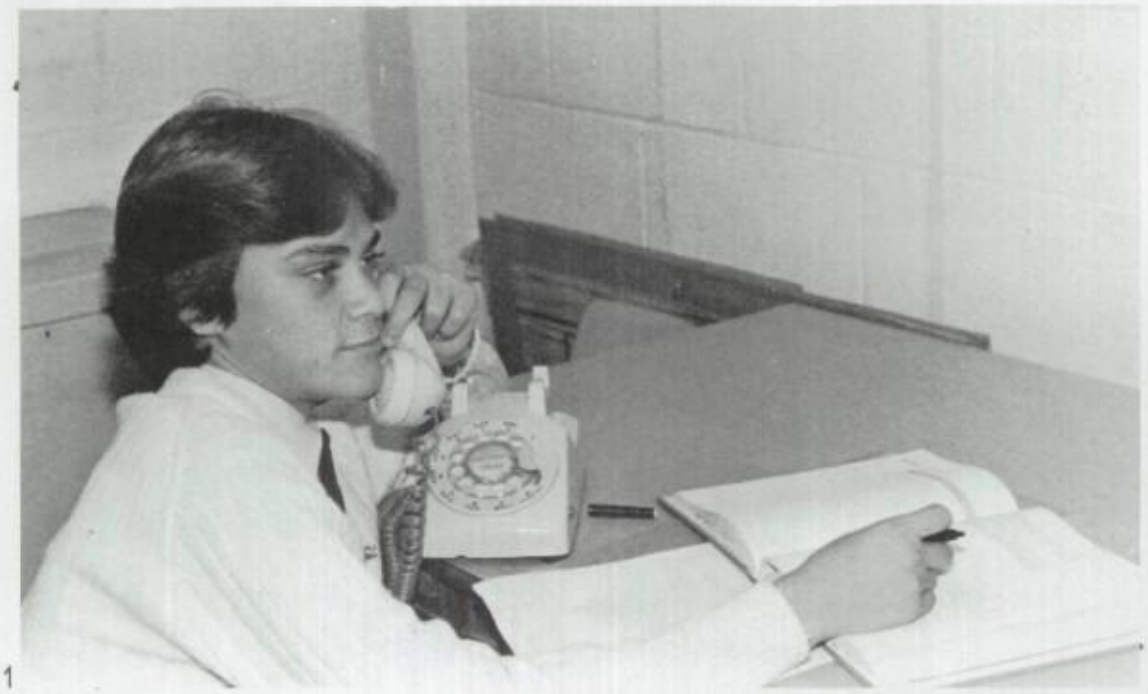
HOMEWORK HOTLINE

Homework Hotline was designed to help students who are having difficulty with their assignments and are unable to attend help sessions or get help from family members. Students can call Homework Hotline to get help with questions about homework in English, math, science, history, and other subjects. Teachers and other qualified adults volunteer their time Monday through Thursday, from 5-8 p.m.



1. Pat Murray calls Homework Hotline for help with Algebra I. 2. Elizabeth Sayers hangs a poster to advertise Homework Hotline.

CLASS RINGS!!!

One of the most exciting events for many Juniors was the annual purchasing of their class rings. The anticipation grew as the Herff Jones representative displayed the many styles available to the students. A student may pick any style which suits his own personality or accomplishments. The emblems ranged from club designs to sport insignias. The stones varied from a starburst design to any birthstone. After many decisions and much debating, most students received their rings in December. 1. Pictured to the right is the announcement for the arrival of the rings. 2. Jill Powell finds her ring size.

MAGAZINE SALE

"Would you like to buy a magazine subscription?" The Junior Class annual magazine sale was an important money-making activity for the class to raise money for various functions. The major expense was that of prom. The Reader's Digest representative encouraged each student to sell magazines in order to reach their profit goal. To urge the students further, prizes were awarded to those juniors who sold enough magazine subscriptions. Many local businesses donated gifts to be awarded to the high sellers. To the right the prom committee checks magazines. On the left Elizabeth Scott makes an order.

HOBBIE CRAZES

One of the latest crazes has been the Rubiks cube. This cube-shaped puzzle has over three billion combinations and only one solution. Have you ever had your cube taken away during class and later found your teacher twisting and turning the crazy colored cube? Pictured on the left are Melissa Mendoza and Arlita Silao, who are masterful "cubists." Another hobby for many students is the electronic games which have become popular. The favorites were Defender, Galaga, Space Invaders, Asteroids, and the forever popular pinball machine. Pictured to the right is a champion at the Galaga electronic game.

PROM PLANNING

The Junior-Senior Prom of '81-'82 was centered around the theme of "Mystical Nights." The prom committee consisted of the Junior Class officers and other interested juniors. Chairman of planning was Mary Thompson and co-chairman was Dorothy Campbell. For many couples a magic night was created under the shiny streamers and dim lights. The participants received memorable favors and programs as they entered into a room filled with intrigue and mystery.

1. The officers of the Junior Class decide on the favors. 2. Mary Thompson and Dorothy Campbell discuss the decorations.

NEW TRENDS

New trends were characterized by the style of "new wave." Although it may have been old to many original "punkers," it was different and exciting for those who were looking for a change. Music was one of the main influences. Buttons with pictures and names of groups such as "Devo," "The Talking Heads," and the "B-52's" were popular and added an aura of "new wave" to those who wore them. At the right, Judy Massey displays a variety of buttons that were worn. On the left, Charles Bach models a different type of "new wave" fashion.

IT'S T.V. TIME!!!

One of the biggest crazes to hit during the past few years is the soap opera. Almost every day one can walk down the halls and hear such names as "Luke and Laura" and "Joe Bradley" being mentioned. "Did you watch 'General Hospital' yesterday?" is probably one of the most asked questions. But soaps aren't the only programs keeping students in front of the T.V. With the availability of cable, more students are staying home nights with friends and food to watch the newest shows and movies!

1. Mike Grice and Adele Kovacs watch cable television.
2. Jessica Soigner and Diedre Dillon read up on the soaps.

ODD COLLECTIONS

Whether you collect stamps, stuffed animals, coins, or just memories, your collection is as individual as your personality. One collection which has become exceedingly popular was that of unicorn knick-knacks as shown in the picture to the left. Stores suddenly became full of interesting unicorn posters, cups, cards, buttons, and much more. This ancient magical creature intrigued and mystified many student collectors. Another interesting collection which developed was that of memorable, punk, or even silly buttons. Pictured to the right is Leah Jelsma with a collection by her and Bonnie Newberry.

CHIC STYLES

Modeled by Liz Barbarito is the camouflage look which is a new fashion.

Styles of dressing reflect the attitudes and feelings of the time, as with punk, new wave, western, and romantic. Punk and new wave are a reflection of the trend in music. The bright, bold music inspired eye-catching and showy prints on shirts, pants, and other articles of clothing. The western look naturally involves a pair of boots to complement the traditional Levi's. Ruffles, lace, and ribbons brought back an aura of romance to the styles of clothes. There were intricate details on skirts, shirts, and shoes. Ankle boots with white hose and plenty of the metallics look is a fashion plus for those who know!

Lisa Bartholomew
College of Charleston
Charleston, S.C. 29424

Well toy this is the verge'd - not just the end of highschool but the end of a chapter in our lives. It seems so strange having shared so important be our past since it has always been in the future (until now). Thank God I'm going to have you to remember from that past / you have truly lend my life to no end and is hard to explain the respect that I have grown to possess for you. You are confident, well balanced and happy. These are things that I have always wanted for myself. I wish I could have the self image that you do. Your independance / outspokenness is going to get you far that's for sure. We haven't had gotten any thing done in Teen Board if you hadn't spoken your mind so many times.

Did you know that last year I was so intimidated by you that I was afraid to say Hi. I sit that funny because now I realize just what a friendly person you really are. I can honestly say that our friendship has given me a new outlook on things - guys, school, friends, everything!

Can it be true. Is it possible for the favorite Boy Toys of the World to separate? This just can't be happening. We have had such great times. I'll never forget that night at Barrington's! Are those Old men! You better watch out next year cause I hear those Eskimos are animals (just like the guys at Barrington's!)

The more I write the more I don't want to leave. I don't care if I'm not ready to be an adult. I don't to be a toy forever!

In closing I want to to know just how special you really are. You've got Steve I'm sure he's told you a thousand times but I want you to hear it from "the intellectual". You've got a baby and I thank you for sharing part of yourself / life w/ me! I will always remember you "Poosie", all our crazy experiences along w/ our serious talks. I hope I've been able to help you out some too - We've shared a lot / I love you much (this is not just yearbook shit) You better keep in touch darling....

Hell Hassle — Goodbye

C/O Best of Luck

NOT goodbye but see you later! / Farewell

'82.

Lisa B (your favorite Hoyt)

We had . . .

1. Mrs. Amber, the financial advisor of the yearbook staff, types up the list of Special Patrons. 2. Karen Smith, ad editor, checks with a business about the ad they have bought. 3. Pat Murray uses the adding machine to see if he has reached his quota of advertisement sales. 4. Kelly Cheary discusses which businesses she should ask to buy ads for the yearbook. 5. Kathy Johnston looks through other yearbooks to get ideas for the pages she will work on this year. 6. David Puffinburger waits in the yearbook office to use the phone. He must check with the company to see what they want to have appear on their advertisement.

Amos -

Well sweetheart, we finally ~~made~~ made it! The countdown is almost over. Can you believe that we finally are getting out of Fletcher State Prison, forgood !!! I only wish you weren't going all the way to Alaska! For your sake I hope there is more up there than snow and peguins! And don't forget we still have our cruise! Boy are we gonna live it upon that boat. 7-days of pure, sweet, and straight PARTING! I only hope we make it back. Maybe if we find us some Caridean sun gods well just have to stay there with them. Opps, I forgot Steve's comin. That doesn't mean I can't look! Anyway I am so glad that we got to be such good friends this year. I know you have proably read that line alot these past few days. But they are straight from the heart from this cute little girl! Your party's had to have been some of the best this year! You do know how to have parties! For a while there you and I partyed together all the time. But we both have other friends and you and Steve started dating but for those few weeks of straight parting we sure did have a Hell of a good time!! I hope that this summer we will get together and go out. I really am excited about this graduating stuff! But Any- way I hope that we keep in touch over the years. And you better not forget me, cause I surly won't forget you. I hope that you have a great summer and I'll see you at the beach. Stay Sweet and Out of trouble I wish you all the luck in the world for you and Steve and your future. Stay in touch even after you move. Love you lots

Dear Amy,
I still can't believe this whole year is over! I'm glad you got moved into this art class! It's been pretty fun in here with all these [redacted] weirdos! Ha! Ha! I really hope that you enjoy going to Univ. of Alaska, it will be a change, but I'm sure you'll adapt well! You + Steve make the BEST COUPLE! I know how you feel about him and I hope your special bond never breaks! Thanks for confiding in me! Thanks for your help + much need guidance + advice with Tim; you had better write me when you leave! I hope I see you over the summer! Good luck always Amy, I know you'll go far! Take care baby!

Amy,

I haven't known you very long, but the time that I have, has been a pleasure. Youre are of the most attractive girls in the school, and I adore you for that. Well, to bad I won't have you in my art class, but it won't matter. (JK) I hope you have a good time in Alaska, and maybe, just maybe, you'll see someone there that reminds you of me. I wish you and Steve the best of luck in the future and in years to come, and have a great summer.

Luv always,

Pat

Jessie,

Dying to read another chapter of your fantastic memoir

I'm glad I got a chance to know you. Hope you keep in touch. Always remember that optimism is the key to success.

We may never see each other again but we've been sharing our lives for a long time

I hope we'll keep in touch. Always, you're in Alaska (Sweet pea) this beat of luck in what they're in after!)

Don't know what they're in after!)

Good Luck always! Dance on, sing on, keep on, write on, act on, love on, live on, laugh!

God Bless You!

Love,
Jessie

Amy,

I don't even know where to start I feel we became so close that we know exactly how each of us feels toward the other. I'm glad that we had recordkeeping together, it gave us a chance to know each other. Then we even began to start going out to some parties and we even began to pal around together. As school kept going our friendship really started growing! We started to talk about very personal things to each other and then I really felt that I knew you even better than ever. And then the big event came — Miss Fletcher! I didn't think we we're going to make it through but we pulled it through — just varily! It was a great experience though, and I'm glad you were there to share it with me! And then you started staying with me; we became instant sisters! I know we have had our differences but I think our friendship pulled us through with a lot of wonderful memories. I know that I will never forget you and all our wonderful memories that we have shared together. I'm sure gonna miss my adopted sister a whole lot! I just want you to know that I'll never forget you and that I love you very much! I sure have had a good time with you and Steve! I wish you all the luck in the world! Please keep in touch with me and don't forget me! I LOVE You!

Love,
Frantic

We had something to show.
And when the halls are empty, and the books are returned, only the memories will remain.
Within the covers of this book lie our remembrances of pride, love, friendship, and achievement which made this year special.
These memories were lived and will be relived in the years to come.

Amy,

I will really miss you when you leave for Alaska, along with everybody else. Who will tell me about the gorgeous guys they have seen, and talk about men, cars and money? If you ever come back to visit Jacksonville you better stop by and see me. I hope that Steve and yourself will remain close after all you will go through, if not you will have some beautiful memories I really appreciated the "info" you gave about a certain person, I will remember that too! If a marriage comes out of it, I hope I here about it, yours & Steves of course. I will miss you and I hope that you have a nice future ahead of you.

Love ya always,

P.S. I think you have great artistic ability, hope you continue it!

AMY DARLING, (HA HA) →

I'm REALLY GLAD I GOT TO KNOW YOU BETTOR THIS PAST YEAR. YOU HAVE MADE MY JONIOR YEAR A MOST (HOW BOUT THIS WORD) ENJOYABLE ONE. I CAN'T BELIEVE THAT YOU WON'T BE COMING TO SCHOOL NEXT FALL. I HOPE YOU HAVE FUN IN ANYTHING YOU DO. YOU WON'T HAVE ANY PROBLEMS MAKING FRIENDS. (EVEN IN ALASKA!!!) LOVE

Amy darling.

Well sweetie, You don't know how many laughs, smiles, cheers and tears you've brought into my life this past year. It's hard to believe that we couldn't stand each other some time ago, but we don't want to remember those days. The great times that we've had this year together have well over surpassed the bad ones from the past. I can't even go on to mention all of the "hilarious" times we've had. Fletcherettes, football games, parties (your house) and of course all of those crazy times in Typing. You really put a spark into my life this past year. It's amazing how close we became in such a short time. I know we were meant to be the best of friends. I can't thank you enough for all your advice and thoughtful words. You've been like a big sister to me and I've always respected your responses. You're someone very special and one to look up to. Your friendship means the world to me. I just don't want to think of the time when you leave. I know you'll do just fine though. You have that special magic in you, which makes people fall in love with

Amy,

Well, can you believe it we're almost out. It seems like just yesterday that we were lost little sophmores trying to make new friends. I don't know about you but I really am glad that I moved down here & went to Fletcher. I really met a lot of nice people, one of them was you. I guess we don't talk as much as we used too, but I still feel that we are good friends though. I'll never forget you & the good times we've had while at Fletcher. I guess we've been through a lot of misunderstandings but in the end everything came out all right. Thank God. If I hadn't of known you ~~at~~ my sophmore year I think I would have been lost. You really helped me out alot & I thank ya' kindly. Well, I hope that you'll like Alaska. I hope the best for you & I mean. Don't forget me cause I couldn't ever forget you. Take Care of Yourself Amy. I'll miss you. Bye!

Love,

Yvonne Harrison

... and you are fortunate enough to have it. I'll miss you darling, but just remember, you'll always be with me (In my memories) I hope we'll always keep in touch.

I love ya honey,
